Why am I required to notify the RQIA?

Article 23 (7d) of The Health and Social Services (Quality, Improvement and Regulation) (Northern Ireland) Order 2003 states that "Regulations may make provision as to the conduct of establishments and agencies, and such regulations may in particular make provision as to the notification of incidents occurring in establishments or in premises used for the purposes of agencies".

All Regulations in relation to services regulated by the RQIA make provision for this reporting of certain adverse events. All services are therefore required to make formal notifications to the RQIA.

Although the individual service providers have primary responsibility for the investigation and risk management in relation to any adverse events, the RQIA has a responsibility to ensure that effective systems are in place to safeguard and promote the wellbeing of service users.

Robust reporting mechanisms and data definitions furthermore enable the RQIA to identify trends which assists to assure and improve the overall quality of health and social care provided within Northern Ireland.

What do I need to Report?

Whilst providers should ensure that all incidents are followed up and managed appropriately, only certain events require reporting to the RQIA. In addition to incidents, some services are also required to report the death of service users within the Establishments.

The specific notification requirements vary across the services and the detail of what registered individuals are required to notify is defined in the specific Regulations. The relevant extracts of the applicable legislation can be found in Appendix 3 of this document.

For convenience a grid summarising the current reporting requirements for each regulated service has been developed. The Grid can be found in Appendix 1.

To ascertain which specific event types individual services are required to notify the RQIA of, please look up the service category at the top of the grid and check the events that have been ticked in the column relevant to your service. The grid also provides guidance on the appropriate form to use.

An A3 version of the grid containing the detailed legislative requirement can be downloaded via the RQIA website (www.rqia.org.uk).

If there is any doubt as to whether an incident should be reported, guidance should be sought by contacting the RQIA using the details given at the end of the document.

How do I report a Notifiable Event?

Submission of a Service Declaration Form (Form 3)

To ensure that notifications are made in a timely and cost effective manner, the RQIA encourages notifications by email or fax.

To enable the RQIA to accept notifications made in this way as well as to ensure that providers have awareness of their obligations in relation to notifiable events, the RQIA has devised a "Service Declaration Form" which registered persons are required to complete prior to the submission of notifications under this guidance.

As the RQIA will accept statutory notifications from any of the email addresses or fax numbers provided on the form, it is the responsibility of the provider to ensure that anyone making a notification to the RQIA in this way is authorised to do so. The details provided relate to the reporting of incidences only and do not affect contact details provided in relation to other important letters or correspondence from the RQIA.

The Declaration Form can be found as Form 3 in Appendix 4 of this document.

Please also complete this form whenever a change to the authorised Fax/Email details is required and return a signed hardcopy to the RQIA by post.

Submission of the Notification Form (Form 1a or Form 1b)

It is encouraged to submit any notification of a reportable incident or death via email or fax

- (1) By Email (preferred method)
- (2) By Fax (if providers do not have access to email)
- (3) By Post (in exceptional circumstances only)

Standard reporting templates have been developed for the submission of incidents or events to RQIA. Hardcopies of all relevant templates are available in Appendix 4 of this document.

Electronic versions for completion are available via our homepage: www.rqia.org.uk

Please go to our website and download the applicable documents and save them on your computer to use for any future events that you are required to report.

If you have problems accessing the website, please email incidents@rqia.org.uk to receive email copies of the required templates.

If you do not have internet access and are required to report by post, please retain photocopies of the appended hardcopies for future use.

What happens after I have reported an Event?

It is the responsibility of the service provider to ensure that incidents are followed up and that any necessary actions following the occurrence of a notifiable event are taken to ensure the safety and wellbeing of service users.

If required, the inspector might contact the service to ensure that the incident is dealt with appropriately. He/she will aim to do so within one week of the incident having been reported. The inspector might also request additional information or confirmation that other agencies have been notified of the event.

Inspectors might also review the occurrence of any incidents in relation to the service during the next announced or unannounced inspection.

Completion and submission of a Follow up Form (Form 2)

Inspectors might ask services to complete an additional form if a follow-up report of an incident is required. The form contains information on action taken as follow-up, lessons learned and any training needs that have been identified. Managers can also use the form to provide additional details that were not available at the time of incident reporting.

Records retention

All statutory notifications received as electronic records are retained on file, archived or destroyed according to the RQIA's Records Management Policy and Procedure and Retention and Disposal Schedule.

Registered Services, as the originators of the document, are required to retain the original record of the notifications made in line with their Records Management Policy and Procedure.

Any additional records relating to the notifiable event should also be retained as further details might be requested during subsequent inspections.

How do I complete the Reporting Templates?

The templates and this guidance document are not intended to replace the professional judgment of the registered person or designated person reporting the incident.

Please complete all shaded sections on the form (if information available) and follow the guidance given on the forms.

Part 1: Service Details

Please complete according to your registration details (see content of Registration Certificate for details)

Part 2: Details of Service User Affected

The RQIA requires the Service to provide the details of the service user affected under Articles 40 and 43 (2) of The Health and Social Services (Quality, Improvement and Regulation) (Northern Ireland) Order 2003 in relation to notifiable events. It is the duty of providers to comply with the Data Protection Act 1998 by not sending confidential personally identifiable information electronically, therefore statutory notifications must not contain the names of the service users.

Providers are required to allocate a unique Identifier for any service user in relation to which a report was made. The identifier has to be unique to the service user and should be used for all future incidents relating to this user. It is the responsibility of the provider to ensure that service users can be identified if necessary. This will be assisted by including the service users date of admission on the form

If more than one service user is affected by the notifiable event, please go to Part 4 of the form (Description of Event) providing the relevant details for each individual affected.

Part 3: Information about the Event

Please select only one of the event categories and specify details if required.

If the incident can be related to more than one incident type, select the type with the most severe consequence, i.e. an "injury" leading to the death of a service user should be reported as an "unexpected death")

The time of the incident should be recorded using the 24 hour clock

Further definitions of individual incident types can be found in Appendix 2 of this document.

Part 4: Concise and precise description of the surrounding circumstances

In order to comply with the Data Protection Act 1998 personal information should not be sent electronically, the description of the incident therefore must not contain names or personal details of service users, staff or other persons involved in the incident.

The standard notification templates are provided to support consistency in information provided and it is essential that all notifications are an accurate account of the incident or event.

Completion of the template needs to:

- Be concise, clear and avoid jargon
- Be objective and realistic
- Be open about what has happened and what was done/will be done to minimize the risk of recurrence.

When do I need to notify the RQIA?

Incidents should be reported to the RQIA in line with the legislative requirement without delay/within 24 hours of the event taking place (see Appendix 3).

In the case of Adult Placement Agencies the notification must be made within 24 hours of the registered person being informed or otherwise becoming aware of the incident.

In the case of Domiciliary Care Agencies and Nursing Agencies, notifications have to be made within 24 hours of the incident having been reported to the Police.

If deemed necessary the initial notification can be followed up using Form 2 as per Appendix 4.

Whom do I notify within the RQIA?

Completed notification forms should be returned by:

- (1) Email incidents@rqia.org.uk
- (2) Fax 028 90 517590

In exceptional circumstances, where technical difficulties make it impossible to submit a notification by either Email or Fax, providers can continue to post their notifications to the RQIA. Notifications should be clearly marked as Private and Confidential and send to: RQIA, FAO Incident Administrator, 9th Floor Riverside Tower, 5 Lanyon Place, Belfast, BT1 3BT.

Do not submit notifications directly to Inspection Staff neither by email nor by post.
