Foreword by the Minister for Health, Social Services and Public Safety

As each of us goes through life we encounter many challenges. For the most part we are able to overcome them, equipped with our experiences, knowledge and with support from friends or family.

The challenges of dealing with abuse, exploitation or neglect should never arise, but they can and they do. The harm caused can have a devastating and long-lasting impact on victims, their families and carers.

Unfortunately, some adults are more at risk of harm than others. Safeguarding adults at risk is a priority for the Northern Ireland Executive and a Programme for Government commitment.

As far as possible, the aim of the policy is to prevent harm from occurring in the first place, to offer effective protection to those who are harmed and to provide them access to justice.

This policy makes it clear that we must not tolerate harm to adults caused by abuse, exploitation or neglect. It promotes partnership working for the purpose of safeguarding and seeks to keep adults safe wherever they live and whenever they access services.

It is acknowledged that safeguarding adults is complex and challenging and requires the careful exercise of professional judgement.

I want to acknowledge the very positive contribution to safeguarding delivered by a wide range of organisations across the statutory, voluntary, community, independent and faith sectors. I believe this adult safeguarding policy sets the way forward for all of us to work together to improve adult safeguarding practice.

I am confident that the implementation of this policy will prevent and reduce the risk of harm and improve safeguarding outcomes and I commend it to you.

Foreword by the Minister of Justice

As Ministers we are committed to ensuring that steps are taken to identify those who may be at risk of harm and, working together with others, improve the safeguards that are in place to protect them. Along with other institutions and bodies, we can provide increased protections and ensure that where a crime has been committed support services and access to justice are available. There are many areas in which adult safeguarding issues are of interest to the criminal justice sector, including a range of crime types such as domestic and sexual violence, hate crime and human trafficking among others. The publication of this adult safeguarding policy improves the safeguards that are in place and, in conjunction with a range of changes to the criminal justice system in recent years, means that more support is available for those who are unfortunate enough to become a victim of crime.

Recent improvements to the criminal justice system mean that those that are at risk of harm and the victim of crime are provided with additional support and entitlements. A victim and witness care unit has been established, providing victims of crime with a single point of contact for as much of the criminal justice system as possible. Registered intermediaries schemes are enabling those with significant communication difficulties to give evidence to the police and at court. In addition, a range of special measures continue to be available to enable vulnerable and intimidated victims and witnesses give their best evidence to both the police and at court. A Victim Charter has also been published, setting out the services to be provided to, and entitlements of, victims of crime as they move through the criminal justice process. This will be placed on a statutory footing later this year.

While it will never be possible to remove the potential for harm to occur, what we can do is ensure that there is effective support and protection for those individuals who have been subject to harm as they move through the criminal justice process. We can also provide increased access to justice for victims and their families when harm does occur and a crime has been committed. We want to place a greater focus on early intervention, protection and enabling those who suffer harm to have a greater voice within the justice process. The publication of the new adult safeguarding policy is a key development in this area.

Minister of Justice

1. INTRODUCTION

Everyone has a fundamental right to be safe. Whatever the cause, and wherever it occurs, harm caused to adults by abuse, exploitation or neglect is not acceptable. This policy emphasises that safeguarding is everyone's business and that as good citizens we should all strive to prevent harm to adults from abuse, exploitation or neglect.

The aim of this policy is to improve safeguarding arrangements for adults who are at risk of harm from abuse, exploitation or neglect. It has been jointly developed and published by the Department of Health, Social Services and Public Safety (DHSSPS) and the Department of Justice (DOJ) on behalf of the Northern Ireland Executive. It sets out how the Northern Ireland Executive intends adult safeguarding to be taken forward across all Government Departments, their agencies and in partnership with voluntary, community, independent and faith organisations. A key objective is to reduce the incidence of harm from abuse, exploitation or neglect of adults who are at risk in Northern Ireland; to provide them with effective support and, where necessary, protective responses and access to justice for victims and their families. The policy contributes to fulfilment of a Northern Ireland Executive Programme for Government commitment to deliver a package of measures to safeguard children and adults who may be at risk of harm and to promote a culture where safeguarding is everyone's business.

The policy requires a cross-departmental approach within government because the delivery of improved safeguarding outcomes is the business of us all, as individuals, as members of communities, as providers of services, and as Government Departments responsible for the delivery of strategies and policies which directly or indirectly impact on the lives of all adults including those at risk. The policy requires us to put all individuals who may be at risk at the centre, to listen to and respect their views, and to work in partnership with them and on an inter-agency basis to create a society which has a zero-tolerance of harm to the most vulnerable adults living in Northern Ireland.

Within this policy the term 'safeguarding' is used in its widest sense, that is, to encompass both activity which prevents harm from occurring in the first place and activity which protects adults at risk where harm has occurred or is likely to occur without intervention.

By introducing this policy we aim to raise awareness of harm to adults at risk, define what harm is, how it manifests itself and importantly how we respond to it. The act of protecting against harm is principally the responsibility of Health and Social Care Trusts (HSC Trusts), and the Police Service of Northern Ireland (PSNI) where a crime is alleged or suspected. However the responsibility of preventing harm is shared more widely. It extends beyond statutory providers of services to the voluntary and community sector, financial institutions, the legal profession, faith-based organisations, independent health and social care providers, carers and all citizens.

2. WHAT DO WE MEAN BY SAFEGUARDING

The majority of adults live full, independent lives free from harm caused by abuse, exploitation or neglect. However, there is a growing recognition that some adults, for a wide variety of reasons, may have been harmed or may be at risk of harm. The full extent of the incidents of harm caused to adults in Northern Ireland is not known but it is suspected to be significantly under-reported.

The language of adult safeguarding previously focused on protection and used the term 'vulnerable adult.' This was widely misinterpreted, often used out of context and, for some, the term implied weakness on the part of the adult, which many found unacceptable. This policy moves away from the concept of 'vulnerability' and towards establishing the concept of 'risk of harm' in adulthood. It places the responsibility for harm caused with those who perpetrate it. Harm resulting from abuse, exploitation or neglect violates the basic human rights of a person to be treated with respect and dignity, to have control over their life and property, and to live a life free from fear. Harm can have a devastating and long lasting impact on victims, their families and carers. It is the impact of an act, or omission of actions, on the individual that determines whether harm has occurred. Any action which causes harm may constitute a criminal offence and/or professional misconduct on the part of an employee.

Adult safeguarding is based on fundamental human rights and on respecting the rights of adults as individuals, treating all adults with dignity and respecting their right to choose. It involves empowering and enabling all adults, including those at risk of harm, to manage their own health and well-being and to keep themselves safe. It extends to intervening to protect where harm has occurred or is likely to occur and promoting access to justice. All adults at risk should be central to any actions and decisions affecting their lives.

Safeguarding adults is complex and challenging. The focus of any intervention must be on promoting a proportionate, measured approach to balancing the risk of harm with respecting the adult's choices and preferred outcome for their own life circumstances. The right of a person with capacity to make decisions and remain in control of their life must be respected. Consideration of 'capacity' and 'consent' are central to adult safeguarding, for example, in determining the ability of an adult to make lifestyle choices, such as choosing to remain in a situation where they risk being harmed or where they choose to take risks. There should always be a presumption of capacity to make decisions unless there is evidence to suggest otherwise and current guidance for professionals in respect of determining capacity should be followed (see section 12). However there are also some circumstances when it may be necessary to consider the protection and rights of others, and overriding the withholding of consent may be necessary to ensure the protection of others.

Preventative Safeguarding includes a range of actions and measures such as practical help, care, support and interventions designed to promote the safety, well-being and rights of adults which reduce the likelihood of, or opportunities for, harm to occur. Effective preventative safeguarding requires partnership working, that is, individuals, professionals and agencies working together to recognise the potential for, and to prevent, harm. Prevention is therefore the responsibility of a wide range of agencies, organisations and groups; indeed it is the responsibility and concern of us all as good citizens and neighbours. All professionals and service providers across the public, private, statutory, voluntary, community, independent, and faith sectors that come into contact with adults, including those who may be at risk of harm, must be alert to the individual's needs and any risks of harm to which they may be exposed. Prevention will strive towards early intervention to provide additional supports at all levels for adults whose personal characteristics or life circumstances may increase their exposure to harm.

Protective Safeguarding will be targeted at adults who are in need of protection, that is, when harm from abuse, exploitation or neglect is suspected, has occurred, or is likely to occur. The protection service is led by HSC Trusts and the PSNI. The input of other individuals, disciplines or agencies may be required, either in the course of an investigation of an allegation of harm or in the formulation and delivery of a care and protection plan.

3. THE AIMS OF THIS POLICY

This policy aims to:

- promote zero-tolerance of harm to all adults from abuse, exploitation or neglect;
- influence the way society thinks about harm to adults resulting from abuse, exploitation or neglect by embedding a culture which recognises every adult's right to respect and dignity, honesty, humanity and compassion in every aspect of their life;
- prevent and reduce the risk of harm to adults, while supporting people's right to maintain control over their lives and make informed choices free from coercion;
- encourage organisations to work collaboratively across sectors and on an inter-agency and multi-disciplinary basis, to introduce a range of preventative measures to promote an individual's capacity to keep themselves safe and to prevent harm occurring;
- establish clear guidance for reporting concerns that an adult is, or may be, at risk of being harmed or in need of protection and how these will be responded to;
- promote access to justice for adults at risk who have been harmed as a result of abuse, exploitation or neglect;
- promote a continuous learning approach to adult safeguarding.

3.1. WHO IS THIS POLICY FOR?

The policy is intended to assist organisations, their staff and volunteers who are in contact with or providing services to adults across the statutory, voluntary, community, independent and faith sectors. While it is intended to be applied by managers, employees and volunteers in the course of the delivery of services and organisational activity, it can also be applied by individuals acting as responsible citizens at home and in local communities.

There is an expectation that all organisations and their staff will work in partnership as they apply this policy to their work with adults who may be at risk of harm or in need of protection. Appendix 1 lists some examples of organisations for whom this policy may have specific relevance, however this is not intended to be an exhaustive list.

4. UNDERPINNING PRINCIPLES

All Adult Safeguarding activity must be guided by five underpinning principles:

A Rights-Based Approach: To promote and respect an adult's right to be safe and secure; to freedom from harm and coercion; to equality of treatment; to the protection of the law; to privacy; to confidentiality; and freedom from discrimination.

Agencies and professionals who intervene in the lives of adults at risk should be guided by current best practice, the law and respect for rights set out in the European Convention on Human Rights¹ and enshrined in domestic law by the Human Rights Act 1998², acting in accordance with relevant UN and EU Conventions³ on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities and the UN Principles for Older Person's 1991⁴. Any intervention to safeguard an adult at risk should be human rights compliant. It should be reasonable, justified, proportionate to the perceived level of risk and perceived impact of harm, carried out appropriately, and be the least restrictive of the individual's rights and freedoms. It cannot be arbitrary or unfair, and all adults should be offered the same services on an equal basis.

An Empowering Approach: To empower adults to make informed choices about their lives, to maximise their opportunities to participate in wider society, to keep themselves safe and free from harm and enabled to manage their own decisions in respect of exposure to risk.

For adults at risk of harm, empowerment is a process through which individuals are: enabled to recognise, avoid and stop harm; facilitated to make decisions based on informed choices including provision of support for those who lack capacity to make decisions; assisted to balance taking risks with quality of life decisions; supported and enabled to seek redress; and for adults who have been harmed, a process whereby they are enabled to recover their self-confidence and self-determination and make informed choices about how they wish to live their lives.

A Person-Centred Approach: To promote and facilitate full participation of adults in all decisions affecting their lives taking full account of their views, wishes and feelings and, where appropriate, the views of others who have an interest in his or her safety and well-being.

A person-centred approach is a way of working with an individual to identify how he or she wishes to live their life and what support they require. A person-centred approach to adult safeguarding demonstrates respect for the rights of the individual

³ Relevant Conventions include The UN Convention on the Rights of Persons with Disabilities, the UN Convention on the Elimination of Discrimination Against Women (CEDAW), and the EU Istanbul Convention on domestic and sexual violence against women

at its core, in particular, respect for the right of the individual to make their own informed choices and decisions. A person-centred approach should result in the individual making informed choices about how he or she wants to live and about what services and supports will best assist them, with cognitive and communication support being provided where necessary. Where the person lacks capacity to make a decision, best interest decisions should be made by professionals which take all available information into account, including information about previously expressed preferences or choices made by the person being safeguarded.

A Consent-Driven Approach: To make a presumption that the adult has the ability to give or withhold consent; to make informed choices; to help inform choice through the provision of information, and the identification of options and alternatives; to have particular regard to the needs of individuals who require support with communication, advocacy or who lack the capacity to consent; and intervening in the life of an adult against his or her wishes only in particular circumstances, for very specific purposes and always in accordance with the law.

Consideration of consent is central to adult safeguarding in determining the ability of an adult at risk to make lifestyle choices, including choosing to remain in a situation where they risk being harmed; determining whether a particular act or transaction is harmful or consensual; and determining to what extent the adult can and should be asked to take decisions about how best to deal with a given safeguarding situation. For consent to be valid, the decision needs to be informed, made by an individual with capacity to make decisions and made free from coercion, constraint or undue influence. Each decision must be considered on its own merits as an adult may possess capacity to make some decisions but not others and/or the adult's lack of capacity to make decisions may be temporary rather than permanent. A consent-driven approach to adult safeguarding will always involve making a presumption that the adult at the centre of a safeguarding decision or action has the capacity to give or withhold consent unless it is established otherwise (see section 12).

A Collaborative Approach: To acknowledge that adult safeguarding will be most effective when it has the full support of the wider public and of safeguarding partners across the statutory, voluntary, community, independent and faith sectors working together and is delivered in a way where roles, responsibilities and lines of accountability are clearly defined and understood. Working in partnership and a person-centred approach will work hand-in-hand.

Harm resulting from abuse, exploitation or neglect can be experienced by adults in a range of circumstances, regardless of gender, age, class or ethnicity. Adults who are at risk, suitably supported, must be central to the partnership, either as participants in preventative activities or protection intervention, or as contributors to decision-making in connection with the development of safeguarding policy, strategy and procedures. Where it is not possible for the adult at risk to contribute directly as participants or contributors, consideration must be given as to how they can be suitably supported to ensure that they are involved at an appropriate level. Successful adult safeguarding requires effective arrangements for all involved to work together. The strength of a collaborative approach will depend on the commitment and support from the highest level to safeguarding adults at the highest level.

5. KEY DEFINITIONS

The risk of harm occurs in all socio-economic, racial and ethnic groups, regardless of gender, age or sexual orientation. All adults at risk should be supported and empowered to minimise their own exposure to risk and to find their own balance between taking risks and making the most of the strengths in their own life circumstances.

The definition of an 'adult at risk of harm' takes account of a complex range of interconnected personal characteristics and/or life circumstances, which may increase exposure to harm either because a person may be unable to protect him/herself or their situation may provide opportunities for others to neglect, exploit or abuse them. It is not possible to definitively state when an adult is at risk of harm, as this will vary on a case by case basis. The following definition is intended to provide guidance as to when an adult may be at risk of harm, in order that further professional assessment can be sought.

An 'Adult at risk of harm' is a person aged 18 or over, whose exposure to harm through abuse, exploitation or neglect may be increased by their:

- a) personal characteristics

AND/OR

- b) life circumstances

Personal characteristics may include, but are not limited to, age, disability, special educational needs, illness, mental or physical frailty or impairment of, or disturbance in, the functioning of the mind or brain. Life circumstances may include, but are not limited to, isolation, socio-economic factors and environmental living conditions.

An 'Adult in need of protection' is a person aged 18 or over, whose exposure to harm through abuse, exploitation or neglect may be increased by their:

- a) personal characteristics

AND/OR

- b) life circumstances

AND

- c) who is unable to protect their own well-being, property, assets, rights or other interests;

AND

- d) where the action or inaction of another person or persons is causing, or is likely to cause, him/her to be harmed.

In order to meet the definition of an 'adult in need of protection' either (a) or (b) must be present, in addition to both elements (c), and (d).

The decision as to whether the definition of an 'adult in need of protection' is met will demand the careful exercise of professional judgement applied on a case by case basis. This will take into account all the available evidence, concerns, the impact of harm, degree of risk and other matters relating to the individual and his or her circumstances. The seriousness and the degree of risk of harm are key to determining the most appropriate response and establishing whether the threshold for protective intervention has been met.

Harm is the impact on the victim of abuse, exploitation or neglect. It is the result of any action whether by commission or omission, deliberate, or as the result of a lack of knowledge or awareness which may result in the impairment of physical, intellectual, emotional, or mental health or well-being.

The full impact of harm is not always clear from the outset, or even at the time it is first reported. Consideration must be given not only to the immediate impact of harm and risk to the victim, but also the potential longer term impact and the risk of future harm.

Harmful conduct may constitute a criminal offence or professional misconduct.

A number of factors will influence the determination of the seriousness of harm. A single traumatic incident may cause harm or a number of 'small' incidents may accumulate into 'serious harm' against one individual, or reveal persistent or recurring harm perpetrated against many individuals.

The judgement of what constitutes 'serious harm' is a complex one and demands careful application of professional judgement against a number of criteria.

Assessments conducted by or on behalf of statutory HSC professionals (see section 10) should include consideration of the following:

- a) the impact on the adult at risk;
- b) the reactions, perceptions, wishes and feelings of the adult at risk;
- c) the frailty or vulnerability of the adult at risk;
- d) the ability of the adult at risk to consent and participate in the decision making process;
- e) the illegality of the act(s);
- f) the nature, degree and extent of harm;
- g) the pattern of the harm-causing behaviour;
- h) previous incidents, including any previous HSC Trust involvement
- i) the level of threat to the adult at risk's right to independence;
- j) the apparent intent of the alleged perpetrator and extent of premeditation;
- k) the relationship between the alleged perpetrator and the adult at risk;
- l) the context in which the alleged harm takes place;
- m) the risk of repetition or escalation of harm involving increasingly serious acts relating to this individual or other adults at risk; and
- n) the factors which mitigate the risk through service provision or wider arrangements.

There are no absolute criteria for judging when harm has become 'serious harm'; however this decision should include consideration of the degree, severity, duration and frequency of harm. The seriousness of harm depends on the impact experienced by the individual. Particularly careful consideration must be given to cases where the adult is unable to understand the impact harm is having on them. This will demand the application of professional judgement to consider all of the available evidence, the concerns and the wishes of the individual and to determine the seriousness of harm and the most appropriate intervention.

Abuse is 'a single or repeated act, or lack of appropriate action, occurring within any relationship where there is an expectation of trust, which causes harm or distress to another individual or violates their human or civil rights'⁵.

Abuse is the misuse of power and control that one person has over another. Abuse may be perpetrated by a wide range of people, including those who are usually physically and/or emotionally close to the individual and on whom the individual may depend and trust. This may include, but is not limited to, a partner, relative or other family member, a person entrusted to act on behalf of the adult in some aspect of their affairs, a service or care provider, a neighbour, a health or social care worker or professional, an employer, a volunteer or another service user. It may also be perpetrated by those who have no previous connection to the victim.

⁵ Action on Elder Abuse: definition of abuse 1993 which can be accessed at: <http://www.elderabuse.org.uk/Mainpages/Abuse/abuse.html>. This was later adopted by the World Health Organisation - http://www.who.int/ageing/projects/elder_abuse/en/

The main forms of abuse are:

Physical abuse

Physical abuse is the use of physical force or mistreatment of one person by another which may or may not result in actual physical injury. This may include hitting, pushing, rough handling, exposure to heat or cold, force feeding, improper administration of medication, denial of treatment, misuse or illegal use of restraint and deprivation of liberty.

Sexual violence and abuse

Sexual abuse is any behaviour perceived to be of a sexual nature which is unwanted or takes place without consent or understanding⁶. Sexual violence and abuse can take many forms and may include non-contact sexual activities, such as indecent exposure, stalking, grooming, being made to look at or be involved in the production of sexually abusive material, or being made to watch sexual activities. It may involve physical contact, including but not limited to non-consensual penetrative sexual activities or non-penetrative sexual activities, such as intentional touching (known as groping). Sexual violence can be found across all sections of society, irrelevant of gender, age, ability, religion, race, ethnicity, personal circumstances, financial background or sexual orientation.

Psychological / emotional abuse

Psychological / emotional abuse is behaviour that is psychologically harmful or inflicts mental distress by threat, humiliation or other verbal/non-verbal conduct. This may include threats, humiliation or ridicule, provoking fear of violence, shouting, yelling and swearing, blaming, controlling, intimidation and coercion.

Financial abuse

Financial abuse is actual or attempted theft, fraud or burglary. It is the misappropriation or misuse of money, property, benefits, material goods or other asset transactions which the person did not or could not consent to, or which were invalidated by intimidation, coercion or deception. This may include exploitation, embezzlement, withholding pension or benefits or pressure exerted around wills, property or inheritance.

Institutional abuse

Institutional abuse is the mistreatment or neglect of an adult by a regime or individuals in settings which adults who may be at risk reside in or use. This can occur in any organisation, within and outside the HSC sector. Institutional abuse may occur when the routines, systems and regimes result in poor standards of care, poor practice and behaviours, inflexible regimes and rigid routines which violate the dignity and human rights of the adults and place them at risk of harm. Institutional abuse may occur within a culture that denies, restricts or curtails privacy, dignity, choice and independence. It involves the collective failure of a service provider or an organisation to provide safe and appropriate services, and includes a failure to ensure that the necessary preventative and/or protective measures are in place.

⁶ The definitions of 'sexual violence and abuse' and 'domestic violence and abuse' will be amended to reflect those included within their revised strategies once published.

Neglect occurs when a person deliberately withholds, or fails to provide, appropriate and adequate care and support which is required by another adult. It may be through a lack of knowledge or awareness, or through a failure to take reasonable action given the information and facts available to them at the time. It may include physical neglect to the extent that health or well-being is impaired, administering too much or too little medication, failure to provide access to appropriate health or social care, withholding the necessities of life, such as adequate nutrition, heating or clothing, or failure to intervene in situations that are dangerous to the person concerned or to others particularly when the person lacks the capacity to assess risk.

This policy does not include self harm or self neglect within the definition of an 'adult in need of protection'. Each case will require a professional Health and Social Care (HSC) assessment to determine the appropriate response and consider if any underlying factors require a protection response. For example self harm may be the manifestation of harm which has been perpetrated by a third party and which the adult feels unable to disclose.

Exploitation is the deliberate maltreatment, manipulation or abuse of power and control over another person; to take advantage of another person or situation usually, but not always, for personal gain from using them as a commodity. It may manifest itself in many forms including slavery, servitude, forced or compulsory labour, domestic violence and abuse, sexual violence and abuse, or human trafficking.

This list of types of harmful conduct is not exhaustive, nor listed here in any order of priority. There are other indicators which should not be ignored. It is also possible that if a person is being harmed in one way, he/ she may very well be experiencing harm in other ways.

5.1. Related Definitions

There are related definitions which interface with Adult Safeguarding, each of which have their own associated adult protection processes in place.

Domestic violence and abuse

Domestic violence and abuse is threatening behaviour, violence or abuse (psychological, physical, verbal, sexual, financial or emotional) inflicted on one person by another where they are or have been intimate partners or family members, irrespective of gender or sexual orientation. Domestic violence and abuse is essentially a pattern of behaviour which is characterised by the exercise of control and the misuse of power by one person over another. It is usually frequent and persistent. It can include violence by a son, daughter, mother, father, husband, wife, life partner or any other person who has a close relationship with the victim. It occurs right across society, regardless of age, gender, race, ethnic or religious group, sexual orientation, wealth, disability or geography.

Human trafficking

Human trafficking involves the acquisition and movement of people by improper means, such as force, threat or deception, for the purposes of exploiting them. It can take many forms, such as domestic servitude, forced criminality, forced labour, sexual exploitation and organ harvesting. Victims of human trafficking can come from all walks of life; they can be male or female, children or adults, and they may come from migrant or indigenous communities.

Hate crime

Hate crime is any incident which constitutes a criminal offence perceived by the victim or any other person as being motivated by prejudice, discrimination or hate towards a person's actual or perceived race, religious belief, sexual orientation, disability, political opinion or gender identity.

Victims of domestic violence and abuse, sexual violence and abuse, human trafficking and hate crime are regarded as adults in need of protection. There are specific strategies and mechanisms in place designed to meet the particular care and protection needs of these adults and to promote access to justice through the criminal justice system. It is essential that there is an interface between these existing justice led mechanisms and the HSC Trust adult protection arrangements described in this policy.

6. THE ADULT SAFEGUARDING INFRASTRUCTURE

The Northern Ireland Adult Safeguarding Partnership (NIASP) and five Local Adult Safeguarding Partnerships (LASPs) were established under the Adult Safeguarding in Northern Ireland, Regional and Local Partnership Arrangements (2010)⁷. They are collaborative partnerships with a responsibility for adult safeguarding in Northern Ireland. The partnerships are tasked by DHSSPS, with the support of the DOJ, with the delivery of improved adult safeguarding outcomes by way of a strategic plan⁸, operational policies and procedures and effective practice, which will be developed and implemented in accordance with this policy. An outline of the structure is provided in Figure 3 below.

6.1. The Northern Ireland Adult Safeguarding Partnership (NIASP)

The NIASP is a regional collaborative body led by the Health and Social Care Board (HSCB). It is supported in its work by all its constituent members, who have made a commitment to adult safeguarding. The membership is drawn from the main statutory, voluntary, community, independent and faith organisations involved in adult safeguarding across the region and includes representation from service providers and users. The NIASP is responsible for promoting and supporting a co-ordinated and multi-agency approach and for creating a culture of continuous improvement in adult safeguarding practice and service responses. The NIASP strategy promotes ownership of adult safeguarding issues within all partner organisations and across all professional groups and service areas.

The HSCB has lead responsibility for the effective working of the NIASP, which is chaired by the Director of Social Care and Children's Services, or a nominated deputy. The Chair ensures that safeguarding matters are brought to the attention of the appropriate Directors in the HSCB and the Public Health Agency (PHA). The Chair is accountable to the HSCB and is responsible for ensuring that there are robust governance arrangements in place and compliance with the HSCB's responsibility for Delegated Statutory Functions.

Each member representative is accountable to their employing organisation and should be of sufficient seniority to bring adult safeguarding issues to the attention of NIASP and to make decisions on behalf of their organisation. Each representative should ensure that any actions and decisions taken by the NIASP are shared and implemented as appropriate within their organisation.

6.2. Local Adult Safeguarding Partnerships (LASPs)

The five LASPs are located within, and accountable to, their respective HSC Trusts. Their role is to implement the NIASP Strategic Plan, policy and operational procedures locally. Each LASP has responsibility to promote all aspects of safeguarding activity in its area and to promote multi-disciplinary, multi-agency and interagency cooperation, including the sharing of learning and best practice. They will be visible within, and engage locally with, communities to raise the profile of adult safeguarding.

The LASP is chaired by the HSC Trust's Executive Director of Social Work or a senior designated nominee. It is responsible for ensuring that there are robust governance arrangements in place and ensuring compliance with the agreed statutory functions delegated by the HSCB.

Each partner organisation should be represented at a sufficiently senior level so that the LASP is effective in the implementation of guidance, policy and procedures at a local level, including engagement with service users, families, carers and the wider public. Each representative should be sufficiently senior to represent his/her organisation's views, to make decisions on its behalf and to ensure that safeguarding issues are dealt with in line with the organisation's established governance arrangements. Each representative should ensure that any actions and decisions taken by the LASP are shared and implemented as appropriate within their organisation.

7. THE CONTINUUM OF SAFEGUARDING – PREVENTION TO PROTECTION

Safeguarding is a broad continuum of activity. It ranges from the empowerment and strengthening of communities, through prevention and early intervention, to risk assessment and management, including investigation and protective intervention. At all stages along this continuum, safeguarding interventions will aim to provide appropriate information, supportive responses and services which become increasingly more targeted and specialist as the risk of harm increases. Presenting safeguarding activity in this way is intended to reflect the importance of prevention and early intervention, both as a means of improving the safety and quality of life and outcomes for all adults and reducing the risks of incidents of harm and need for more intrusive protection interventions. This is not intended to suggest that any stage or intervention along the continuum is mutually exclusive of the others. Throughout the continuum it is essential to recognise the importance of promoting empowerment and self-determination and the rights of all adults to make informed lifestyle choices.

Local communities and services provided to the adult population are the starting point of the adult safeguarding continuum. Individuals will in the first instance be supported by their families and friends and by local community involvement and support. Using community development approaches, and working in partnership with local communities and organisations, we must build stronger, self-reliant communities and effective working relationships that promote people's rights, challenge inequalities and improve local support. Building safer communities involves helping adults to minimise their own exposure to the risk of harm from abuse, exploitation or neglect by empowering, equipping and enabling them to keep themselves safe, while at the same time enabling them to live their lives and pursue their interests to the fullest extent possible. Within communities there are a range of public and private services which will be available to and accessed by all adults.

This policy advocates that where there are potential interfaces with adults who may be at risk of harm, the organisations delivering such services should consider how adult safeguarding may be relevant to them and the actions they can take to prevent harm arising from abuse, exploitation or neglect to those using their services.

Within communities there are recreational social, sporting or educational activities available to all adults provided by a range of organisations across the statutory, voluntary, community, independent and faith sectors. Organisations providing these activities contribute to safeguarding adults by ensuring that these activities are delivered in a way which keeps adults safe. These organisations will need to assure themselves and everyone who comes in contact with them, that the organisation is committed to best safeguarding practice and to uphold the rights of all adults to live a life free from harm from abuse, exploitation and neglect. These organisations should have in place a culture of zero-tolerance of harm to adults which necessitates: the recognition of adults who may be at risk and the circumstances which may increase risk; knowing how adult abuse, exploitation or neglect manifests itself; and being willing to report safeguarding concerns. This extends to recognising and reporting harm experienced anywhere, including in the person's own home, in any care setting, in the community, and within organised community or voluntary activities (see section 8).

Voluntary, community, faith and independent service and/or activity providers are at the forefront of preventative safeguarding responses within the community. To be effective, preventative safeguarding requires everyone in society to work as partners, that is, individuals, families, carers, professionals and agencies working together to keep individuals safe and to prevent harm from abuse, exploitation or neglect.

One of the key ways of preventing escalation of the risk of harm is to intervene early. Early intervention is part of the safeguarding continuum and provides help and support to prevent problems reaching a point where a protection response becomes necessary.

In circumstances where community based activities can no longer meet the needs of an adult, or where there are emerging safeguarding concerns, contact should be made with the local HSC Trust for a professional assessment of needs and/or risks. All actions or interventions must be person centred and put the adult in need or at risk of harm at the centre of decision making.

If the concern relates to serious harm a referral may be made directly to the Adult Protection Gateway Service.

Very often it is the General Medical Practitioner (GP) who will be the first point of contact for adults and their families where an individual's needs are changing and they require further support. GPs and other allied health professionals, such as opticians, pharmacists, dentists or therapists, have a key role in the identification of risks of harm and ensuring appropriate referral to the HSC Trust for a further assessment of needs and/or risks.

Targeted services are services delivered specifically to 'adults who may be at risk' in order to meet assessed needs and/or address risks. The scale and intensity of service provision and intervention is likely to increase in proportion to the level of assessed need or risk. As the level of need or risk increases HSC Trusts may need to take action to prevent or manage any identified need or risk of harm, through provision of a service such as domiciliary based care, supported living, residential or nursing care. Targeted services will normally be delivered by, commissioned or contracted by, HSC Trusts. However voluntary, community, independent and faith sector organisations may provide services targeted specifically at groups of adults at risk for recreational, social, sporting or educational purposes.

Targeted services include all services which fall under the definition of Regulated Activity contained within Schedule 2 of the Safeguarding Vulnerable Groups (Northern Ireland) Order 2007⁹. This includes all health and social care services, whether delivered by statutory or independent providers, such as hospitals and GPs.

Many adults at risk will spend most of their time where they live, particularly those adults with restricted mobility and/or limited capacity to make decisions. These people may be more heavily dependent upon targeted services and the support of others, and their level of risk may increase as they spend much of their time in their home, often alone, or with the same people surrounding them, and with greater dependency on individuals or carers.

All targeted service providers, must be zero-tolerant of harm. There is an expectation that providers of targeted services will have robust governance and safeguarding procedures in place within their organisations to ensure that care is delivered in a way which instils confidence amongst those who use the service, staff, management, regulators and the public.

There is an expectation that commissioners of services will require, by way of service level agreements or contracts, the providers of targeted services to have robust governance and safeguarding regimes in place. There is an expectation that as employers, both service providers and commissioners must also ensure their organisations promote zero-tolerance of harm to adults within the workplace.

As the risk of harm increases, the safeguarding response required to mitigate it also increases. At the higher end of the safeguarding continuum is the Adult Protection Gateway Service. This service is provided for 'adults in need of protection', that is, those adults for who harm from abuse, exploitation or neglect, is a reality either because it has already occurred or, without intervention, is at serious risk of occurring. Protection interventions are led by social workers within the HSC Trusts and/or PSNI officers; the latter primarily where a crime or criminal act is alleged or suspected. These lead agencies will engage with the adult in need of protection in the first instance. They will also require information, action and support from other disciplines, agencies and organisations to assist with an adult protection or criminal investigation, or to contribute to the development and delivery of a care and protection plan for an adult in need of protection.

8. PREVENTION – PROMOTING SAFER COMMUNITIES AND SAFER ORGANISATIONS

The prevention of harm requires the promotion and creation of:

- safer communities, that is, safe places for all adults to live in, including those who may be at risk; and
- safer organisations, that is, safe places where all adults, including those who may be at risk, access and receive services or participate in organised activities.

Whether living in communities or working or volunteering in organisations, each of us needs to be zero-tolerant of potentially harmful behaviours against others, and when we suspect something is wrong, to report it (see section 10).

8.1. Safer Communities

A key objective of this policy is to promote safer communities for adults to live in and safer organisations for them to be actively part of. The more socially isolated people are the greater the risk of harm arising from abuse, exploitation or neglect. The creation of safer communities for all adults is the responsibility of central and local government; of statutory sector service providers; and of voluntary, community, independent and faith sector providers. Local communities, neighbours and citizens also have a key role to play.

Empowerment is key to the promotion of safer communities and the prevention of harm. We should seek to connect people with the resources, activities and services that promote involvement and minimise opportunities for people to cause harm to others. Communities should aim to create opportunities to encourage and empower people to participate as fully as possible in their communities and broader society. Safer communities can play a vital signposting role in connecting people with local resources and supports that enable them to resolve their own problems and challenges.

There are a number of strands to the creation of safer communities that will greatly contribute to the prevention of harm.

Effective Health and Social Care Policies and Strategies

Being fit and well means people are better placed to ensure their personal safety.

Initiatives which:

- aim to prevent slips, trips and falls;
- promote healthy eating, exercise and the sensible use of alcohol;
- ensure good dental and eye care;
- promote personal resilience, self awareness and independence;
- encourage and assist people where necessary to feel safe in their own home all contribute to assisting people to be better able to address their personal well-being and safety. This requires effective health and social care planning and implementation, robust public health strategies and responses, and commissioning and delivery underpinned by standards frameworks¹⁰ which set out the care that patients, clients, their carers and wider family can expect to receive.

Effective Community Safety Policies and Strategies

People who feel safe in their homes and community are more likely to feel in control of their lives and to take positive steps to ensure their personal safety. A number of types of crime – such as doorstep crime; distraction burglaries; bogus callers; rogue traders; cold callers and cyber crime are of particular concern with regard to adults at risk in our communities. The work of voluntary and community groups is critical to help adults who may be at risk to live safer lives and minimise their exposure to risk of harm through the promotion of local initiatives to provide information and support.

The 'Building Safer, Shared and Confident Communities – A Community Safety Strategy for Northern Ireland 2012-2017'¹¹ contains commitments to reduce fear of crime and help people to feel safer through regional and local programmes to increase trust and confidence. Through engagement with the voluntary and community sector, the strategy aims to:

- improve understanding of fear of crime and deliver tailored projects to reduce fear;
- promote intergenerational projects to bring old and young together to increase confidence;
- promote positive perceptions of young people; and
- engage with the media on reporting of crime and anti-social behaviour and its impact on fear and confidence.

The Policing and Community Safety Partnerships (PCSPs)¹² which operate in each council area are central to the delivery of safer communities. Each PCSP works with its local community to identify and address issues of concern in the local area and PCSP Policing Committees work with local PSNI to develop local policing plans and monitor their performance in enhancing community safety in their area. They also work to secure the co-operation of the public to prevent crime and enhance community safety.

Effective Awareness of Adult Harm and Abuse and Responsibility to Report

Adult abuse is underreported. People may not report their concerns for a number of reasons, including not recognising it for what it is or fear of 'getting it wrong'. It is a reality that the adult who is at risk is often dependent on the person whose behaviour is, either intentionally or unintentionally, causing the harm.

Public awareness campaigns and education programmes can help the public to recognise that adult harm and abuse is unacceptable in a civilised society and encourages the reporting of concerns to the HSC Trust and the Adult Protection Gateway Service. Education programmes in schools and colleges encompassing 'good citizenship' principles and social responsibilities can help begin the shift towards a society which is zero-tolerant of adult harm.

Many public and private service providers within the community are well placed to identify early indications that an adult may be at risk, for example banks or legal services such as solicitors. Providers of services who are in a position of trust, in particular GPs and providers of primary care services, will have access to information regarding adults which may suggest they are at risk of harm. Service providers should be aware of the signs of harm to adults within their respective sectors, and should ensure organisational procedures are in place to guide staff when concerns are identified. All those working to provide services to the community generally have a responsibility to refer concerns to their local HSC Trust, and to cooperate and share information where necessary with any adult safeguarding investigations.

8.2. Safer Organisations

The continuum of adult safeguarding outlines the wide range of organisations involved in people's lives, from the small community activity groups through to larger organisations and statutory services. All organisations should ensure that any service they deliver is underpinned by the principles of respect and treating others with dignity (see section 4). This is the first and crucial step to ensuring that services are high quality, that the focus is on the individual receiving the service which may help to provide support and that harm is prevented. Increasing levels of need and risk are likely to lead to greater targeting of service provision, which, in turn, requires a heightened awareness of risk of harm and more robust measures will be required to prevent harm.

Robust governance arrangements are key to an organisation's ability to keep adults safe from harm. A range of governance arrangements exist, which should not and cannot operate in isolation. No single governance measure will ensure the safety of adults at risk. Both internal governance and external measures are vital to ensure that safeguarding concerns are identified early and escalated to enable appropriate action to be taken. Governance arrangements must be brought together to provide a level of assurance to managers and leaders that the organisation is doing all it can to keep adults in receipt of its services safe from harm.

Each organisation will have its own internal governance arrangements depending on the size of the organisation and the nature of its activities. The governance arrangements should be proportionately robust to enable managers at all levels, including the Chief Executive and Board members where applicable, to assure themselves that the organisation is delivering a safe, high quality service to all, and that it is effectively adhering to the adult safeguarding expectations appropriate to the organisation.

Senior managers should create a culture where staff and volunteers feel that their role and contribution is valued and that they are empowered, and supported in decision making by line managers. Senior management must ensure good governance is cascaded throughout the organisation. Line managers should ensure decisions taken by their staff which relate to adult safeguarding are consistent with organisational safeguarding policies.

Where an organisation permits, by way of contracts or otherwise, the use of its facilities or services by third parties to provide services or activities to adults, assurances should be sought from the third party that it is adhering to the appropriate level of governance as described below.

8.3. Minimum Safeguarding Expectations

At a minimum, any public service, voluntary, community, independent or faith organisation providing recreational social, sporting or educational activities or services will be expected to safeguard adults who may be at risk by:

- recognising that adult harm is wrong and that it should not be tolerated;
- being aware of the signs of harm from abuse, exploitation and neglect;
- reducing opportunities for harm from abuse, exploitation and neglect to occur; and
- knowing how and when to report safeguarding concerns to HSC Trusts or the PSNI.

8.4. Internal Governance – Policy and Procedures

The following policies and procedures are the building blocks of good governance that contribute to safe high quality care and they should be robustly implemented by any organisation.

These are essential for any organisation delivering, commissioned or contracted to deliver targeted services.

- Robust selection and recruitment procedures;
- Effective management, support, supervision and training of staff;
- Procedures for responding to, recording and reporting safeguarding concerns in a timely manner to the HSC Trusts;
- Procedures for cooperating within the organisation and with others as required to address safeguarding concerns;
- Procedures for assessing and managing risks;
- Management of reporting and escalating untoward/adverse incidents;

- Procedures for managing comments, complaints and suggestions;
- Procedures on the management of records, confidentiality, and the sharing of information, (see section 14);
- A written code of behaviour/conduct;
- A disciplinary policy, including referral to regulatory bodies where relevant; and
- A whistle-blowing policy.

Care and Service Standards

All providers of targeted services are required to have in place the above governance arrangements and, depending on the nature and level of the service delivered, providers may also be required to ensure compliance with care and/or service standards and regulations against which they will be inspected or audited. Where there are breaches in compliance with standards or regulations and the quality of care or the safety of service users is compromised, the role of inspection and that of the relevant regulator is critical in addressing the safeguarding concern and the prevention of harm.

All organisations providing targeted services to adults who may be at risk must have the above governance arrangements in place, supported by the implementation of an adult safeguarding policy.

Adult Safeguarding Policy

The Adult Safeguarding Policy will clearly demonstrate the organisation's commitment to a zero tolerance of adult harm. The policy must be owned and supported by senior management and be accessible to all within the organisation.

A key element of the adult safeguarding policy will be the nomination of Adult Safeguarding Champions (ASC)¹³. An ASC must be accessible to all service areas in the organisation as a source of advice and guidance. The nominated ASCs should be senior people within the organisation, suitably trained, experienced and skilled to carry out the role (see section 15).

The role of the Adult Safeguarding Champion is:

- to provide information and support for staff on adult safeguarding within the organisation;
- to ensure that the organisation's adult safeguarding policy is disseminated and support implementation throughout the organisation;
- to advise within the organisation regarding adult safeguarding training needs;
- to provide advice to staff or volunteers who have concerns about the signs of harm, and ensure reporting to HSC Trusts where there is a safeguarding concern (see section 10);
- to support staff to ensure that any actions take account of what the adult wishes to achieve – this should not prevent information about any risk of serious harm being passed to the relevant HSC Trust Adult Protection Gateway Service for assessment and decision-making;

- to establish contact with the HSC Trust Designated Adult Protection Officer (DAPO) (see section 11), PSNI and other agencies as appropriate;
- to ensure accurate and up to date records are maintained detailing all decisions made, the reasons for those decisions and any actions taken;
- to compile and analyse records of reported concerns to determine whether a number of low-level concerns are accumulating to become significant; and make records available for inspection.

Where the ASC is not immediately available, this should not prevent action being taken or a referral being made to the HSC Trust in respect of any safeguarding concern.

As the level of need or risk and service intervention increases, more robust governance measures and requirements will apply.

9. EXTERNAL GOVERNANCE

9.1. Commissioning/ Subcontracting Arrangements

Services for adults at risk may be commissioned or sub-contracted by a range of organisations across the statutory, voluntary, community, independent or faith sectors. This may include, for example, commissioning by the NIHE, local councils, PSNI and other justice organisations, or the HSC sector. Any organisation which commissions or sub-contracts provision of a service for adults at risk to another third party organisation retains responsibility and accountability for the quality of the provision of that service.

The HSCB, HSC Trusts and the PHA may commission or purchase health and social care services from third party providers, whether from the voluntary, community, independent or faith sectors. This will include GP and other primary or health care services, such as private hospitals, nursing or residential care, supported housing, day care or domiciliary care services.

It is critical that all commissioning or subcontracting organisations ensure that it is a condition of all contracts or service level agreements with service providers that there are robust governance arrangements in place within those provider organisations to ensure that adults at risk are safe from harm and receive a high quality service.

HSC Trusts must provide advice and guidance to adults who may be at risk who are commissioning their own care, for example those in receipt of direct payments or self directed support, outlining what they should expect from their service provider in terms of governance arrangements and good safeguarding practice.

Those who have a role in the management and monitoring of contracts have a responsibility:

- to specify and issue contracts for the purchase of services commissioned to address identified needs;
- to acquire and maintain a sufficient level of knowledge about adult safeguarding relevant to their role;
- to require that all services meet their safeguarding requirements described in this policy and other standards of quality set by the DHSSPS;
- to work closely with service providers to assist them to address ongoing concerns that may relate to contractual/service level agreement requirements;
- to monitor the quality of the performance of service providers and identify any deterioration in standards of care and risks this may present;
- to regularly audit the third party service provider to ensure the service is being delivered in accordance with the contract and this policy;
- to escalate any concerns about the provision of care to the care manager / key worker or senior management; and
- where requirements are not being met, to use appropriate reporting mechanisms to ensure adults at risk are kept safe, and where necessary impose appropriate sanctions.

All professionals with responsibility for carrying out the care management process and function must:

- ensure that needs and risks to the adult at risk are identified and assessed, taking account of their views and preferences;
- ensure that there is a personalised care plan detailing the needs of the adult and specifying how the service provided will safely meet the needs and mitigate any risks identified;
- ensure the care plan is being implemented as agreed by the service provider;
- ensure that the care plan is reviewed regularly, as specified in the Care Management Guidance, or more frequently as required in order to respond to changing needs and/or risks;
- ensure a safe and high quality service is provided, noting any patterns emerging which suggest that there may be a cause for concern and acting upon any such concerns;
- ensure that they are informed of any incidents, accidents or “near misses” in respect of the individuals for whom they have commissioned care;
- ensure that they are informed of any changes in financial circumstances that come to the attention of the HSC Trust;
- ensure that they are informed of any complaints made and action taken to address them;
- analyse trends to identify patterns which may indicate low-level concerns or poor quality care issues which may accumulate to indicate that there is a risk of harm; and
- escalate concerns which may indicate serious harm or risk of serious harm to an adult at risk (see section 10).

9.2. Professional Regulation

Regulatory bodies are responsible for establishing and operating statutory schemes of regulation underpinned by professional standards and Codes of Conduct relating to the conduct and practice of their respective professions. They maintain registers of workers who meet those standards and this information is publicly available. Within the health and social care sector for example, doctors, nurses, social workers and allied health professionals must register with their respective regulatory body before being able to practice. Where risks of harm to a service user are identified, all professionals must act in accordance with any professional Code of Conduct agreed with their regulatory body.

A person who is the subject of an investigation by their regulatory body may also be under investigation in respect of an adult protection investigation. Where both investigations run in parallel, the adult protection investigation must take precedence to ensure that the rights and safeguarding needs of adults at risk are being protected and the integrity of any criminal investigation is maintained.

9.3. Legal Requirements

Where there are statutory requirements linked to safeguarding or quality of service provision, all organisations will need to be assured that they are fully compliant with the requirements of the law.

Of particular relevance to adult safeguarding is the Safeguarding Vulnerable Groups (Northern Ireland) Order 2007, which seeks to protect children and vulnerable adults from harm caused by those who work closely with them. Schedule 2 of this Order contains a definition of Regulated Activity, and anyone engaging in Regulated Activity should have their suitability checked through AccessNI prior to employment.

The Disclosure and Barring Service¹⁴ (DBS) is responsible for maintaining the list of individuals barred from engaging in Regulated Activity with children and vulnerable adults across England, Wales and Northern Ireland. A regulated activity provider must refer anyone to the DBS who has harmed or poses a risk of harm to a child or a 'vulnerable adult' and who has been removed from working (paid or unpaid) in regulated activity, or would have been removed had they not left. The DBS will decide whether the person should be barred from working in regulated activity with children, or adults, or both.

It is an offence to knowingly engage a barred person in regulated activity and it is an offence to engage or offer to engage in regulated activity if you are barred.

Within the health and social care sector, HSC Trusts, voluntary, community, independent and faith sector providers must be assured that they are fully compliant with the duty of quality imposed on them by the Health and Personal Social Services (Quality, Improvement and Regulation) (NI) Order 2003¹⁵ and the Regulations made under that Order.

9.4. Regulation

There is a broad range of regulators, auditors and inspectorates which are relevant to adult safeguarding. Each has a specific role in measuring and ensuring that organisations comply with their own particular service or quality standards and the regulatory framework within which they operate.

Regulation, inspection and audit should make clear the expectation that service providers must meet the relevant quality standards, detect failings in provision of care or services early, and take appropriate action when sub-standard care is found.

Regulation needs to be responsive and proportionate, with the aim of ensuring public confidence in the services provided. This can only be achieved by a highly coordinated, integrated and expert regulatory system employing intelligent and thoughtful inspection. It will require the ability to apply both qualitative and quantitative judgement and to take effective enforcement action when necessary.

The Role of Regulation and Quality Improvement Authority (RQIA)

The RQIA is the independent regulator of the health and social care sector and has an important role in promoting continuous improvement in the quality and safety of care delivered across the range of health and personal social services. RQIA registers and inspects a range of services described in the Health and Personal Social Services (Quality, Improvement and Regulation) Order (Northern Ireland) 2003. These services are subject to regulation and are provided by both the statutory and independent sectors. RQIA's regulatory function operates within a framework of regulations and standards produced by DHSSPS.

RQIA inspections and reviews are conducted across a range of HSC settings in the statutory, independent and voluntary sectors. RQIA has a specific role in inspecting mental health and learning disability hospital wards. RQIA, through its inspections and reviews, makes an independent assessment of the safety, quality and availability of health and social care services. Within the regulated care sector, inspections may be announced or unannounced, and examine compliance with regulations and minimum standards in the areas of care, medicines management, estates and finance. Other inspections or reviews can be commissioned and conducted across a range of health and personal social services. Where the service inspected is not meeting the required quality standards, or where compliance issues or concerns are identified, there are a range of robust sanctions and powers available to RQIA.

The RQIA has a key preventative role in adult safeguarding practice. As the independent regulator, RQIA has both a responsibility and the authority to ensure that safety and quality of care concerns which put service users at risk are addressed in the services which they inspect. The RQIA also has a key role in service improvement with the aim of encouraging improvement in the quality of the services they inspect and securing public confidence in the provision of those services by keeping the Department of Health, Social Services and Public Safety informed of their availability and their quality.

Governance information is essential to RQIA in the conduct of its inspections and reviews. It assists with the assessment of the service with specific regard to safeguarding performance. There are core governance elements which should be included in all inspections conducted within regulated services. These are the number, nature and outcome of:

- complaints made;
- safeguarding concerns raised with the Adult Safeguarding Champions;
- notifiable incidents or accidents which occurred as appropriate to that service setting; and
- any disciplinary procedures conducted.

Information collected during inspections and other information which may come to the attention of the RQIA, from a range of sources, including statutory notifications, must be collated and analysed to ensure trends are identified. In particular, information on complaints, notifiable incidents and accidents should be triangulated as these are key indicators of risk to service users. Inspectors should be aware that a number of low-level concerns could suggest patterns or trends which accumulate to a risk of serious harm to one or more adults.

Enforcement action is an essential element of the responsibilities of RQIA. There is a range of enforcement options which RQIA can use to ensure compliance with regulations and minimum standards, to effect improvements and to afford protection to service users. In most circumstances, and where appropriate, RQIA will make recommendations and requirements for quality improvement through regulation and inspection activity. Where a service is identified as being at risk of failing to meet minimum standards and/or comply with regulations, RQIA will consider the various options to enable the registered establishment or agency to make the necessary improvements. RQIA will normally adopt a stepped approach to enforcement. However, this would not rule out the option of moving directly to legal action, including prosecution, if the circumstances require. RQIA may increase inspection activity to monitor compliance and ensure that the necessary improvements are being made. RQIA may escalate enforcement actions at any time, proportionately and in relation to the level of risk to service users and the seriousness of any breach of regulation. RQIA will follow up enforcement action to ensure that quality improvements are achieved. In certain circumstances, where there is deemed to be a risk of serious harm to service users, RQIA may take urgent action. Such circumstances include, but are not exclusive to, those falling under the Protocol for Joint Investigation of Alleged and Suspected Cases of Abuse of Vulnerable Adults (2009). This may involve, where necessary, using its powers to cancel registration and/or to seek the urgent closure of a registered service. RQIA publishes its enforcement policy and procedures online, along with copies of its inspection reports¹⁶.

The RQIA will notify any serious concerns in relation to the quality of service provision or risk of harm to an individual/s to the relevant HSC Trust or the PSNI, and will be a key partner contributing to investigations with the other agencies to protect adults at risk who are in receipt of a regulated service.

¹⁶ RQIA publications are available on www.rqia.org.uk

10. REFERRAL PATHWAY FOR SAFEGUARDING CONCERNS

If there is a clear and immediate risk of harm or a crime is alleged or suspected, the matter should be referred directly to the PSNI or HSC Trust Adult Protection Gateway Service.

However in most circumstances there will be an emerging safeguarding concern which should normally be referred to the HSC Trust, for a professional assessment. It will be a matter for HSC professionals to judge whether the threshold for an adult protection intervention has been met, or whether alternative responses are more appropriate. Referrals can be made from any source.

Figure 7 shows the pathway for reporting emerging safeguarding concerns through targeted HSC services and if necessary to the HSC Trust adult protection service.

All HSC Trusts must have a single point of access for receipt of referrals regarding concerns about adults who may be at risk, and will promote and publicise contact arrangements within its area. HSC Trust arrangements must accommodate referrals which do not obviously fit existing Programme of Care structures, ensuring there are no safeguarding gaps.

10.1. Risk Assessment

When any risk of harm is identified, a risk assessment must be undertaken to establish the degree of risk of harm to that individual and to others. It is the responsibility of suitably qualified statutory HSC professionals to undertake such risk assessments once a concern has been raised. In certain circumstances HSC Trusts may ask another organisation to conduct risk assessments on its behalf.

HSC professionals are required to put the individual's needs and wishes at the heart of the risk assessment process, and to use their expert skills and professional judgement so that the most appropriate and preferred course of action or outcome is found for each individual.

Assessment is a process which focuses on the individual and their circumstances at the time, recognising that needs and risks can change over time. Assessment will analyse and be sensitive to the changing levels of need and risk faced by an individual. It may require specialist assessments or expert opinion to inform the evidence gathering. All information should be analysed to determine the nature and level of risk. The assessment will inform a proportionate response based on the views and wishes and the preferred outcomes of the individual.

In gathering information to inform the assessment, professionals should be aware that this may also be required as part of a criminal investigation. Therefore it is critical to ensure that any potential evidence that may be later required by the PSNI is not compromised.

In making professional judgements, due regard should be given to the capacity of the adult to make informed choices, free from duress, pressure or undue influence and their capacity to make decisions to protect themselves from harm. All adults, including those at risk will always be assumed to have capacity to make decisions unless it has been determined otherwise (see section 12) and, ideally, a referral to the HSC Trust should be made with the adult's agreement and full participation. However, there may be circumstances in which the person concerned about an adult at risk may not be best placed to seek their consent to a referral being made, or the adult at risk is clearly stating that they do not want a referral to be made. Whilst the wishes of the adult should always be the paramount consideration, it is important to remember that there will be circumstances when other factors may be overriding, for example, where undue influence or coercion is suspected to have influenced the adult's decision or other people may be at risk. The inability to obtain an adult's consent in these circumstances should not prevent or delay concerns about that adult being reported to adult protection services. A balance must also be struck between an individual's human rights and the need to intervene to protect them from harming themselves or others.

Consideration should be given to the vulnerability of the alleged perpetrator. It is possible that a risk assessment may also be required for the perpetrator.

The analysis of risk will be central to decisions about future intervention. Any safeguarding intervention is not about being risk averse, nor simply about eliminating risk; adult safeguarding is about empowering and supporting people to make decisions that balance acceptable levels of risk in their lives. This may mean that individuals choose to live with risks or to take risks. The exercise of professional judgement in determining the level of risk of harm and whether a referral for an adult protection intervention is required is critical.

Where professionals have contact with an adult at risk they may have opportunities to identify risk of harm. Within the HSC sector this may be for example a GP, District Nurse, Social Worker or another Allied Health Professional, or may be within acute or hospital settings. Professionals must be alert to signs of harm and escalate their concerns to the Adult Protection Gateway Service with the local HSC Trust (see section 11).

Figure 8 illustrates the factors for consideration in determining whether harm has become 'serious harm'.

Where a risk assessment concludes that the adult is at risk of serious harm, or has experienced serious harm (see section 5), then consideration must be given to whether the threshold for referral to Adult Protection Gateway Service has been met.

10.2. Determining Whether the Thresholds for Referral to Adult Protection Gateway Service Are Met

In the majority of cases where serious harm has been identified, the thresholds for Adult Protection Gateway Service will be met. However it must be remembered that in some circumstances referral into the Adult Protection Gateway Service may not be the most appropriate response. This may include, for example, a peer on peer incident where capacity is an issue and alternative responses are more appropriate (see below). At all times the least intrusive and most effective response should guide the intervention. The following thresholds are intended as a guide.

Thresholds are not intended to be used as exclusion criteria, but should be used positively to assist professional judgements about making referrals into the HSC Trust Adult Protection Gateway Service, and, critically, to enable informed decisions in respect of the most appropriate or proportionate safeguarding response.

The threshold for referral to the HSC Trust Adult Protection Gateway Service is likely to be met if one or a number of the following characteristics are met:

- the perceptions of the adult(s) concerned and whether they perceive the impact of harm as serious;
- it has a clear and significant impact on the physical, sexual, psychological and/or financial health and well-being of the person affected;
- it has a clear and significant impact, or potential impact, on the health and

- well-being of others;
- it involves serious or repeated acts of omission or neglect that compromise an adult's safety or well-being;
- it constitutes a potential criminal offence against the adult at risk;
- the action appears to have been committed with the deliberate and harmful intent of the perpetrator(s);
- it involves an abuse of trust by individuals in a position of power or authority; and
- it has previously been referred to a regulated service provider for action, and has not been sufficiently addressed.

If there is doubt about whether the threshold for Adult Protection has been reached, the concern should be discussed with the HSC Trust Adult Protection Gateway Service and a DAPO will advise whether the matter meets the threshold for referral into the Adult Protection Gateway Service.

Where a criminal act is either alleged or suspected, a report must be made to the PSNI.

10.3. A Determination that the Threshold for Referral to Adult Protection Gateway Service is Not Met – Alternative Safeguarding Responses

Where it is determined that the threshold for Adult Protection has not been met, other alternative courses of action should be explored with the adult. At all times the least intrusive and most effective response should be made. This is a matter for professional judgement, taking account of the individual circumstances and the wishes and views of the adult and may include:

- a) escalation to the service manager to address any issues about the quality of service provision;
- b) referral to the RQIA for action as the regulator in respect of quality of care concerns or where concerns have been raised and there has been a lack of action by the service provider;
- c) referral to a care manager/key worker for re-assessment and review of service user/carer's needs, views and care plan, or where appropriate a mental capacity assessment;
- d) action taken under complaints procedures;
- e) action taken under human resources/disciplinary procedures and referral to professional bodies, statutory regulatory bodies and/or the Disclosure and Barring Service where appropriate;
- f) referral to an advocacy service;
- g) referral to another service;
- h) a risk management intervention in relation to self neglect;
- i) a strategy to manage risks within a complex group living environment and the management of challenging behaviour;
- j) no further action required;

or a combination of two or more of the above.

Where an HSC Trust Adult Protection Gateway Service has agreed an alternative course of action, there must be mechanisms in place to ensure that those given lead responsibility to take certain actions report back to the DAPO on the outcome of the actions taken. All organisations involved in contributing to alternative courses of action will be expected to cooperate fully with HSC Trusts.

Any safeguarding concerns relating to breaches of regulations or non-compliance with care or service standards are matters for the regulator, regardless of whether the threshold of serious harm has been reached. The HSC Trust should raise such concerns with the RQIA and will then co-ordinate an interagency response. The role of RQIA in inspection and regulation is outlined in section 9 and will be critical in the identification and prevention of safeguarding concerns or incidents in a proportionate manner to prevent unnecessary engagement of the Adult Protection Gateway Service.

11. ADULT PROTECTION SERVICES

HSC Trusts and the PSNI are the lead agencies with responsibility for adult protection.

Each HSC Trust will have an Adult Protection Gateway Service which will receive adult protection referrals. Referrals outside normal working hours should be made to the Regional Emergency Social Work Service (RESWS). Referrals will be accepted from any source, irrespective of Programme of Care boundaries.

HSC Trusts will be the lead agency in terms of the co-ordination of joint Adult Protection responses. Within each HSC Trust, responsibility for the Adult Protection rests with the Executive Director of Social Work, and the lead profession within HSC Trusts is social work.

In circumstances where a crime is alleged or suspected, a referral to the PSNI should be made by telephoning 101, or in an emergency, 999. Both numbers are accessible on a 24 hour, 7 days per week basis. The PSNI will be the lead criminal investigative agency and will progress a criminal investigation where required.

The PSNI will be the lead criminal investigation agency and a report should be made to the PSNI where a crime is alleged or suspected. Within PSNI, responsibility for Adult Protection rests with the Chief Superintendent who has responsibility for the Public Protection Branch¹⁷.

A Joint Protocol will guide interagency referral, consultation and information exchange and working arrangements and will provide clarity in respect of the roles of the PSNI and HSC Trusts in the delivery of the adult protection response. The Joint Protocol will outline when and how other agencies will be engaged for the purpose of an adult protection investigation and protection planning.

Regional adult protection procedures for HSC Trusts will be developed by the HSCB, endorsed by the NIASP and LASPs and implemented across the region to ensure that adult protection responses and practice are consistent across all HSC Trust areas. HSC Trusts will be responsible for implementing these procedures on behalf of the HSCB.

PSNI is guided by current the Association of Chief Police Officers (ACPO) guidance 'Safeguarding and Investigating the Abuse of Vulnerable Adults 2012' as well as established protocols such as Safeguarding Vulnerable Adults (Regional Adult Protection Policy and Procedural Guidance) 2006 and 'Joint Investigation of Alleged and Suspected Cases of Abuse of Vulnerable Adults' NIASP 2009. The Public Protection Branch (PPB) will be responsible for triaging reports under Joint Protocol arrangements. When a PPB passes the adult protection response to another branch of PSNI, the PPB will retain oversight and ensure ongoing engagement and communication with other partners under Joint Protocol.

All operational adult safeguarding policies, procedures and protocols in support of this policy must be consistent with the underpinning principles contained in section 5 of this policy.

11.1. Adult Protection Process

Each adult protection intervention is likely to be unique and the response made must allow for flexibility and individualised decision-making. It is important that each adult protection intervention is conducted without undue delay, remains outcome focused, rather than process driven, and is subject to ongoing monitoring and review at an appropriately senior level. At all stages throughout the adult protection intervention, consideration should be given to whether the threshold for the Adult Protection Gateway Service continues to be met. Any action necessary to address immediate protection needs of the adult must be taken regardless of which stage of the process has been reached.

Each intervention will be made in accordance with an agreed process. A typical protection process is contained in figure 11 below encompassing 6 distinct stages. While presented in stages, the process is not intended to be linear in nature. It is possible that some stages will run in parallel and it may also require moving between stages in both directions. This policy does not advocate specific timescales for progressing through the stages of the protection process, because it is important that flexibility is maintained to allow for professional decision making. There can be complex issues to be managed such as fluctuating capacity to make decisions and complex investigations that may require interagency collaboration and consultation including cooperation with any PSNI investigations. Nonetheless, it is important that all adult protection interventions are progressed in a timely manner, and must not be allowed to drift unnecessarily.

At every stage the adult's human rights must be considered, and evidence of this recorded. The adult's rights, needs, views and wishes, should be central to the protection intervention to ensure that they receive the support needed to achieve an agreed outcome.

Processes and procedures in themselves will not protect, people and good practice will.

A Designated Adult Protection Officer (DAPO) will be responsible for the management of each referral received by a HSC Trust. DAPOs will be in place both within the Adult Protection Gateway Service, and within core services teams. Following initial screening by the Adult Protection Gateway Service, a DAPO in core services may be asked to manage the referral going forward.

Every DAPO must:

- be social work qualified;
- be working in a minimum of a band seven;
- have first line management responsibilities, or in a senior practitioner role;
- be suitably experienced; and
- have undertaken the necessary training (see section 15).

The role of the DAPO is to:

- make sure the needs, safety and wishes of the adult at risk are kept central to any actions and decisions taken;
- screen the referral;
- make contact with PSNI if a crime is alleged or suspected, or there is an

- immediate risk of harm to an adult at risk;
- make key decisions including whether the threshold for protection intervention has been met;
- manage and coordinate the adult protection intervention;
- ensure that any risks to the adult(s) and others potentially at risk are assessed and agreed actions taken;
- analyse needs and risk assessments to determine the most appropriate course of action;
- inform and involve other agencies as necessary, and work with them to plan and carry out actions taken;
- be responsible for coordinating the sharing of information between agencies;
- ensure the support needs of the adult at risk and others affected are considered throughout;
- ensure appropriate documentation and records are fully completed, including records of all decisions taken;
- make sure the adult at risk and the referrer are given regular feedback, insofar as this is possible;
- analyse the adult safeguarding data within their service area and contribute to the governance arrangements as appropriate; and
- ensure that the connections are made with related interagency mechanisms such as:
 - Multi Agency Risk Assessment Conference (MARAC)
 - Domestic and sexual violence services
 - Public Protection Arrangements in Northern Ireland framework (PPANI)
 - Human trafficking procedures
 - Hate Crime Practical Action Scheme
 - The Office of Care and Protection (or equivalent)
 - Child Protection Gateway Service
 - Business Services Organisation Counter-Fraud Unit.

The DAPO may decide to close the adult protection process at any stage if:

- it is agreed that further investigation, assessment or intervention is not required to protect the adult at risk;
- the DAPO decides that an alternative safeguarding response is more appropriate, proportionate and effective to address the concern identified;
- a Protection Plan has been agreed and is in place and is effectively addressing the needs of and the risks to the adult; or
- the adult chooses to withdraw from the protection process.

Where the safeguarding concern relates to the quality of care provided to an adult in receipt of a regulated HSC service, the DAPO will engage the RQIA to ascertain whether the provider is in breach of regulation or minimum standards. The RQIA will act on all safeguarding concerns where there are breaches of standards or regulation and, where necessary, use their powers of improvement or sanction to ensure that the provider addresses any breach of the minimum standards to the satisfaction of RQIA.

The PSNI will be the lead agency when a criminal investigation is required, and any other related investigations or assessments must be coordinated with the PSNI.

Responsibility for coordinating, and communicating the outcome of, the criminal investigation lies with the Detective Inspector PPB. A criminal investigation will take precedence over any other adult safeguarding process. For example, a disciplinary process should not commence until after the conclusion of an adult protection criminal investigation by the PSNI, or following approval by PSNI.

11.2. Large Scale and/or Complex Investigations

A large-scale adult protection investigation may be initiated when a number of adults at risk have allegedly been abused or patterns or trends are emerging which suggest serious concerns about the quality of care, which put the safety of service users at risk.

This could include any of the following:

- multiple concerns within one service provider;
- one person is suspected of causing harm to multiple adults and/or in a number of settings;
- a group of individuals are alleged to be causing harm to one or more adults;
- where care arrangements are complicated by cross-boundary considerations.

A large-scale adult protection investigation is likely to involve a range of organisations, and potentially a number of individual adult protection interventions.

Complex (i.e. organised or multiple) abuse is defined as abuse involving one or more abusers and a number of related or non-related adults at risk. The abuser concerned may be acting with others to abuse adults at risk, may be acting in isolation, or may be using an institutional framework or position of authority to access adults at risk for abuse.

Such abuse can occur both as part of a network of abuse across a family or community and within institutions such as residential or nursing homes, supported living facilities, day support settings and in other provisions such as voluntary groups. There may also be cases of adults at risk being abused through the use of the internet. Such abuse is profoundly traumatic for the adults at risk who are involved. The investigation of large scale and/or complex abuse requires specialist skills from PSNI and HSC Trust staff.

Every investigation will require careful and thorough planning, effective inter-agency working and attention to the needs of the adult(s) involved. Some investigations become extremely complex because of the number of people or places involved and the timescale over which the abuse is alleged to have occurred.

On receipt of information which may indicate organised or multiple abuses, the HSC Trust Designated Officer should immediately consider whether a report to the PSNI is appropriate, initiate a joint strategy meeting and, where necessary, establish a Strategy Management Group (SMG) to oversee the process of investigation. Core representatives of SMG are:

- PSNI;
- HSC Trust nominated DAPO;
- a senior manager from the relevant adult programme of care; and

- RQIA (where the allegation relates to a regulated service).

Appropriate legal advice will be necessary and should be sought through PSNI and HSC Trust legal advisers.

The SMG will:

- establish the principles and practice of the investigation, draw up an investigation plan and ensure regular review of progress against that plan;
- establish and manage an Investigative Team within their respective agencies;
- ensure co-ordination between the key agencies and Investigative Team
- address the issue of resourcing individual investigations;
- act in a consultative capacity to those professionals who are involved in the investigation;
- draw up a media strategy that will address who will take responsibility for responding to the media;
- agree communication strategy/liaison with victims/families and carers involved in the investigation;
- agree level of information sharing, where appropriate to do so, with the proprietor and the staff of the facility/service under investigation;
- at the conclusion of the investigation, discuss salient features of the investigation with a view to making recommendations for improvements either in policy or in practice.

11.3. Operational Protection Policies and Procedures

The HSCB's regional operational adult protection procedures will underpin this policy and provide guidance to support good practice and sound professional decision making. Procedures will be subject to regular review.

Operational policies and procedures should:

- a) clarify roles, responsibilities and expectations at all levels;
- b) outline the importance of, and interface with, the Joint Protocol;
- c) provide procedures for inter-agency working across the full range of organisations;
- d) provide a consistent framework to guide adult protection interventions;
- e) promote flexibility and a focus on outcome;
- f) describe how the threshold of serious harm is applied at each stage of the process to enable the most proportionate response to be identified;
- g) provide guidance on the management of adult protection referrals where more than one HSC Trust is involved;
- h) encourage reflective professional practice;
- i) support robust decision making;
- j) strengthen professional line management and governance arrangements;
- k) outline procedures for integration with the other investigations (see the role of the DAPO earlier in this section);
- l) define information exchange procedures;
- m) outline record keeping requirements; and
- n) describe how large scale and/or complex investigations should be conducted.

12. CONSENT AND CAPACITY

12.1. Consent

Consideration of consent is central to adult safeguarding. Consent is a clear indication of a willingness to participate in an activity or to accept a service, including a protection service. It may be signalled verbally, by gesture, by willing participation or in writing. No one can give, or withhold, consent on behalf of another adult unless special legal provision for particular purposes has been made for this.

For consent to be valid, it must be given voluntarily by an appropriately informed person who is able to consent to the intervention being proposed. In cases where the individual lacks capacity, decisions will usually be made on behalf of the individual in accordance with current legal provisions.

A consent-driven approach to adult safeguarding will always involve:

- a presumption that the adult at the centre of a safeguarding decision or action is able to give or withhold consent unless it is established otherwise;
- acknowledging that an adult who lacks capacity to make a decision cannot give consent but that he or she should still be involved in decision-making as far as possible and given appropriate support;
- acknowledging that everyone who has capacity to make a certain decision has the right to pursue a course of action that others may judge to be unwise, but that sometimes a balance must be struck between an individual's human rights and the need to intervene to protect others;
- providing support to an adult where they have withheld consent and this has been overridden;
- ensuring consent/non-consent is informed through the provision of full and accurate information, making sure that the information is conveyed in a way which the adult fully understands and taking all practicable steps to help the person make and communicate the decision; and
- understanding that the choices and decisions made by the individual at any one time are not seen as irrevocable or non-negotiable.

Where there is a concern that an adult may be at risk of, or experiencing, harm and there are concerns about coercion or undue influence, this should be referred to the HSC Trust in accordance with section 11.

12.2. Capacity

An adult will always be assumed to have capacity to make a decision unless it is suspected otherwise. Capacity can fluctuate, and is both issue and time specific, therefore should be kept under regular review in connection with any safeguarding intervention, in particular a protection intervention.

Where there is a reasonable doubt regarding the capacity of an adult to make a specific decision or series of decisions, a referral must be made to the HSC Trust. The organisation or individual making the referral may need to consider any reasonable and proportionate interim steps necessary to protect the adult pending further enquiries by the HSC Trust. An HSC professional within the HSC Trust will conduct a capacity assessment in accordance with existing legislation and guidance.

Lack of capacity

Tensions between an adult's autonomy and the need to intervene to keep an adult safe makes deciding whether or not to intervene when an adult lacks capacity to make a decision particularly difficult, and one that must always require professional judgement in respect of the individual circumstances of the adult.

Where an adult lacks capacity to make a certain decision, they should be supported so they can be involved to the fullest extent in the decision that affects their life. Any interventions and actions taken by the HSC Trust must be in the best interests of the person being safeguarded, and in accordance with existing legislation and policy. HSC Trusts should, where appropriate, consult relevant family members or carers when considering action to be taken regarding an adult who lacks capacity to make a decision.

12.3. Lack of Consent

In some circumstances it may be necessary for the withholding of consent to be overridden. Where consent to intervene is not provided by the adult at risk, action to progress a case may still be taken in circumstances where there is a strong overriding public interest, or where a crime is alleged or suspected. This may happen when:

- the person causing the harm is a member of staff, a volunteer or someone who only has contact with the adult at risk because they both use the service; or
- consent has been provided under undue influence, coercion or duress;
- other people are at risk from the person causing harm; or
- a crime is alleged or suspected.

In these circumstances, the adult should be informed of that decision, the reason for the decision, and reassured that as far as possible no actions will be taken which affect them personally without their involvement. Consideration should be given to any support the adult may need at this time, as they may be distressed by the prospect of their information being shared without their consent.

12.4. Advocacy

Advocacy involves enabling people to say what they want, to have their views heard, and empowering them to speak up for themselves. It informs the person about their options and helps them to take action when necessary to have their voice heard and secure their rights.

Whilst advocacy is a social work role, the use of independent advocacy services to support the adult at risk in making their choices may be appropriate, particularly for those who have difficulty being heard or expressing their views, or where there are conflicting interests. This is particularly the case where HSC staff, professionals or family are of the opinion that what the person wants is not in their best interests.

Advocacy can assist adults to be involved in, and influence, decisions taken about their care. It helps to ensure that the adult at risk remains central to the decision making process. Advocacy should not make decisions on behalf of the adult at risk, but always work in partnership with the adult they are supporting. People who are lack capacity to make a decision rely more heavily on others for many aspects of their care, treatment and support, and have the potential to benefit more from advocacy services to assist them exercise their rights.

13. ACCESS TO JUSTICE: SUPPORT FOR VICTIMS

Where a crime is alleged to have occurred there is a duty on PSNI to investigate. There are also a range of mechanisms in place to support a victim when giving a statement to the PSNI, evidence at court and in terms of emotional and practical support services more generally. The provision of these services requires effective cooperation across a range of organisations including the PSNI, HSC Trusts, the Public Prosecution Service and voluntary sector service and support providers.

Where a crime is reported to the PSNI a victim of crime information leaflet is available which provides contact details of general support services such as Victim Support NI and NSPCC Young Witness Service, as well as specialist support services, including for families bereaved through murder or manslaughter, victims of domestic and sexual violence, victims of trafficking and young victims of crime among others. The PSNI can refer victims of crime to Victim Support NI, where referral to specialist support services is also available dependent on the needs of the individual. Where an individual has concerns about their safety they should refer this to the police.

Victims of crime can have access to additional support to help them give evidence, as part of criminal proceedings where a person is under the age of 18, or where the quality of the evidence is likely to be affected because the person has mental health issues, learning or communication difficulties, a neurological disorder or a physical disability. Additional support is also available to those victims who are intimidated and the quality of whose evidence is likely to be affected because of fear or distress about testifying, for example, where the person is a victim of domestic violence, hate crime, trafficking, exploitation, bullying or abuse by professionals or carers or family members.

For these types of victims the PSNI will carry out interviews in accordance with 'Achieving Best Evidence in Criminal Proceedings' guidance. This sets out good practice in interviewing victims and witnesses and in preparing them to give their best possible evidence in court, so that they have an opportunity to access justice and provide their best evidence. Such interviews are normally video recorded.

Victims will have their needs assessed by the PSNI or Victim and Witness Care Unit (which provides a single point of contact from the point when the case file is transferred from the PSNI to the Public Prosecution Service).

Additional support at court, such as special measures¹⁸, may be applied for by the Public Prosecution Service, with final decisions taken by the judge on their availability. More than one special measure may be granted in a particular case, with this again a decision for the judge. The special measures, as set out below, include:

- screens/curtains in the courtroom so the victim does not have to see the defendant;

¹⁸ A leaflet on special measures is available at http://www.psnipolice.uk/special_measures_leaflet.pdf. The legislation governing special measures can be found at: <http://www.legislation.gov.uk/nisi/1999/2789/contents>

- a live video link allowing evidence to be given away from the courtroom, which also allows for a support to be present with the witness in the live link room;
- giving evidence in private, where the case involves a sexual offence, a slavery or human trafficking offence, or the person is deemed to be intimidated;
- video recorded statements – these allow the main evidence to be given using a pre-recorded video statement;
- using communication aids, such as alphabet boards (where the person's evidence is likely to be affected due to a learning or communication difficulty, mental health issue, physical disability etc.); and
- removal of wigs or gowns.

Another special measure is assistance from a communication specialist (a Registered Intermediary) when a person is telling the police what happened to them or is giving evidence in court. Registered Intermediaries are professionals with specialist skills in communication. The role of Registered Intermediaries is to facilitate the giving of evidence rather than provide a general support role. They assist a vulnerable person, who has a significant communication difficulty, during the criminal justice process if their communication difficulties would diminish the quality of their evidence. The Registered Intermediaries Schemes pilot is helping vulnerable people have access to justice where it may not have been possible before.

As well as help when giving evidence victims also have access to a range of general support services. Victim Support NI¹⁹ helps people who have been a victim of, or a witness to, a crime. They provide emotional support, information and practical help to victims, witnesses and others affected by crime through compensation, community and witness services. Victim Support NI can also refer victims to specialist support services, where appropriate and available.

A Victim Charter provides victims of crime with relevant information, sets out what their entitlements are and the standards of service that they can expect to receive as they move through the criminal justice process. It will also make clear to service providers exactly what their duties are in ensuring victims receive the right level of service. The Charter provides information on the support services that are available to victims of crime, including specialist services.

14. INFORMATION MANAGEMENT AND INFORMATION SHARING

14.1. Information and Record Management

Information associated with adult safeguarding is likely to be of a personal and sensitive nature and its use is governed by the common law duty of confidentiality. At all times 'personal data' and 'sensitive personal data'²⁰ must be managed in accordance with the law, primarily the Data Protection Act 1998 (DPA) and the Human Rights Act 1998 which, among other things, gives individuals the right to respect for private and family life, home and correspondence.

The eight principles of the DPA state that personal data must be:

- processed fairly and lawfully and only for purposes compatible with the reason(s) for which the information was originally obtained;
- adequate, relevant and not excessive for the purposes for which it is processed;
- accurate and kept up to date;
- not kept for longer than is necessary;
- processed in line with the rights of the data subject;
- held securely; and
- not transferred to other countries outside the EEA without adequate protection.

All organisations providing targeted services to adults at risk must have an information management policy and associated governance arrangements in place which complies with the DPA and the Human Rights Act 1998. These policies must include the procedures to be followed by staff and volunteers in relation to:

- information management, including recording of information, its secure storage, and how this can be accessed and by whom;
- sharing information outside of the organisation for safeguarding purposes, and how requests for information will be considered and assessed (see Information Sharing for Safeguarding Purposes below);
- training to be provided to staff in relation to their duties under the DPA;
- subject access requests;
- complaints about information management; and
- identified breaches of data protection within the organisation.

Good records management standards and practices are required for the organisation to ensure confidentiality and that the security of service user information is respected. Many professionals are governed by a Code of Practice or Code of Conduct issued by the professional body with which they are registered, which will contain guidance on information management to support organisational policies. Guidance for voluntary, community, independent and faith sector organisations on the management of records, confidentiality and sharing of information is available in the Volunteer Now guidance document 'A Shared Responsibility'²¹. 'Good Management

²⁰ 'Sensitive Personal Data' is defined by Section 2 of the Data Protection Act 1998:

²¹ 'Safeguarding Vulnerable Adults: A Shared Responsibility' can be accessed at:
<http://www.volunteernow.co.uk/fs/doc/publications/vn-sva-web-full-colour.pdf>

Good Records'²² provides guidance for those who work within or under contract to Health and Social Care statutory organisations on the required standards of practice in the management of records.

14.2. Information Sharing for Safeguarding Purposes

In relation to adult safeguarding, the duty to share information about an individual can be as important as the duty to protect it. Effective safeguarding will depend on information being made available to those who need it at the right time. Proportionate information sharing may be required to prevent harm to the adult at risk or to others, and can facilitate preventative or early intervention approaches.

It is important that confidentiality is not confused with secrecy. Proportionality is the key in respect of the risks associated with deciding whether or not to share information.

Organisations and professionals should not give assurances of absolute confidentiality in adult safeguarding where there are concerns about risk of harm to one or more adults, nor should it be assumed that someone else will pass on information which may be critical to the prevention of harm to an adult.

Information sharing is one form of data processing, and as such is covered by principles and requirements of the DPA. The Information Commission's Office (ICO) has published a statutory Data Sharing Code of Practice²³ to assist organisations to comply with the DPA. The code is applicable to all organisations involved in sharing personal data, whether this is within different branches of the same organisation, or with a third party organisation. It contains guidance in factors to consider when deciding whether or not to share personal data, including checklists to assist organisations in their decision making.

Organisations that collect or hold personal data or sensitive personal data should explain in advance to the data subject how their information will be used, including under what circumstances the information might be shared. Guidance on how this can be undertaken is contained in the Privacy Notices Code of Practice²⁴ published by the ICO.

Targeted services providers must have procedures for staff and volunteers on how to share information in compliance with the DPA and the ICO Code of Practice. Decisions about what information should be shared and with whom should be taken on a case by case basis, and in accordance with organisational information management policies and the legal framework, and in line with this policy. The management interests of an organisation should not override the need to share information for safeguarding purposes.

²² 'Good Management Good Records' can be accessed at:
<http://www.dhsspsni.gov.uk/index/gmgr.htm>

²³ The Data Sharing Code of Practice can be accessed at:
https://ico.org.uk/media/for-organisations/documents/1068/data_sharing_code_of_practice.pdf

²⁴ The 'Privacy Notices Code of Practice' can be accessed at:
https://ico.org.uk/media/for-organisations/documents/1610/privacy_notices_cop.pdf

If anyone has concerns about risk of harm to an adult, they should seek advice from the relevant HSC Trust or the PSNI.

Personal data may be shared when:

- the adult has given his or her valid consent (which in the case of sensitive personal data must be explicit); or
- where information sharing is necessary for matters of life or death or for the prevention of serious harm to the individual; or
- where sharing is necessary for the purposes of the administration of justice;
- where sharing information is for public or statutory duties.

Where the decision is made to share information without consent, the organisation must ensure that the adult is clearly informed of what information will be shared, why it will be shared, and who it will be shared with, providing this does not increase the risk to the adult. Organisations should avoid asking for consent to share information when it is likely that a decision will be taken to share the information regardless of whether consent is given. Any sharing of information must meet conditions under Schedules 2 and 3 of the Data Protection Act.

If there is reason to believe that sharing information due to a statutory duty to disclose may increase the risk of harm, or where there is doubt about whether the organisation can or should share information, the organisation may wish to obtain legal advice.

Good record keeping of decision making is essential in cases where information sharing is being considered. Staff should maintain records of the information gathered which explains and justifies their decisions.

14.3. Sharing Information Between Agencies

Effective safeguarding cannot be achieved without organisations working collaboratively to ensure the safety of the adult at risk is prioritised. Working together is dependent on there being a clear framework for doing so, and adult safeguarding should be based on good communication across sector and agency boundaries.

The effective and timely sharing of information between organisations is essential to deliver high quality adult safeguarding services focused on the needs of the adult.

Agencies and organisations which are required to share information on a regular basis to safeguard adults at risk must have Information Sharing Agreements (ISAs) in place which identify key members of staff and contact points within the organisation through which information can be channelled, including out of normal working hours. The agreements should be agreed at Board/Director level and subject to regular review.

Member organisations of NIASP have all signed an information sharing agreement. This agreement will stipulate when information may be shared without the subject's consent.

An ISA should outline how organisations have agreed to share information and ensure compliance with legal requirements. The purpose of an ISA is:

- to facilitate the secure exchange of information in an appropriate format, where necessary, to ensure the health, well-being and safeguarding of adults at risk;
- to provide a framework for the secure and confidential sharing of personal data between the partner organisations;
- to promote consistency of information sharing across partner organisations; and
- to support professional decision making in individual cases.

When an HSC Trust has a contract or commissioning arrangement with a third party organisation, the contract or commissioning agreement must state how the third party organisation must handle any personal data obtained through provision of the service. This must include how the information will be securely stored, managed, disposed of, and where appropriate shared, in compliance with the DPA and the Human Rights Act 1998.

15. SAFEGUARDING TRAINING

Effective adult safeguarding requires a specific level of knowledge, expertise and skill and understanding. Adult safeguarding is complex and must be delivered by a confident, competent and trained workforce, which includes those working in a voluntary or unpaid capacity.

NIASP has a responsibility to develop an inter-agency and inter-disciplinary approach to adult safeguarding training and practice development. NIASP will develop and agree a Regional Adult Safeguarding Training Framework which will specify learning outcomes and core content to meet a range of identified training needs within partner organisations.

The framework will provide a number of levels of training which reflect the varying levels of expertise required and the differing needs of organisations across the safeguarding continuum. The appropriate level of training will be determined by the roles and responsibilities of the individual.

Service providers should use the NIASP framework to identify and set out training and development pathways for their staff and volunteers, to ensure they have the appropriate skills and knowledge to engage in preventative activity and respond to safeguarding concerns commensurate with their role. This may involve a combination of formal training events, and time for staff to reflect on their own practice and the practice of others. Records should be maintained of all training and development undertaken by staff and volunteers.

16. A CONTINUOUS LEARNING APPROACH

All practitioners, agencies and organisations involved in work with adults at risk must ensure that the highest possible standards of care, support and protection are provided and maintained at all times, and improvements identified and put in place on a continuous basis. The NIASP will foster a culture of collaborative learning and continuous practice and service improvement in connection with adult safeguarding. This will require knowledge and understanding of the 'system' at the front-line, the identification of and exploration of learning from cases with different outcomes for adults at risk of harm, or adults who have been harmed and the implementation of learning from both. The emphasis should be on learning for the purpose of positive proactive change and improvement. It will require the support of staff who will be responsible for the implementation of change.

The NIASP will promote a culture of continuous improvement and collaborative learning to improve outcomes for adults who may be at risk and their experience of the adult protection responses.

This does not mean that those responsible for harming an adult at risk by an act of commission or omission should not be held to account. A range of accountability mechanisms already exist, including disciplinary mechanisms. These should be used where it is appropriate to do so.

The ultimate aim is to establish a system which promotes continuous learning and improvement to:

- establish whether there are lessons to be learned about the way in which local professionals, agencies and organisations work together to safeguard adults at risk;
- identify clearly what those lessons are, how they will be acted upon, by whom and by when, and what is expected to change as a results;
- improve multi-disciplinary and interagency working, and promote better approaches to prevention, protection and support of adults at risk.

The NIASP will seek the full support, cooperation and participation of its member organisations to identify opportunities for learning and to bring these to the attention of the NIASP.
