Assurance, Challenge and Improvement in Health and Social Care

It should be noted that this inspection report should not be regarded as a comprehensive review of all strengths and areas for improvement that exist in the service. The findings reported on are those which came to the attention of RQIA during the course of this inspection. The findings contained within this report do not exempt the service from their responsibility for maintaining compliance with legislation, standards and best practice.

1.0 What we look for

2.0 Profile of service

Moneydarragh Flexicare is a domiciliary care agency based in the village of Ballymartin. Under the direction of the owner/manager Karen Cunningham, staff of 67 provides care services to 127 service users in their own homes. These service users are mostly frail elderly, but some have physical disabilities, learning disabilities and mental health care needs. The service users live in the Annalong and Kilkeel areas of County Down. The services provided range from personal care, practical support to sitting services. Their services are commissioned by the Southern Health and Social Care Trust (HSC trust).

4.0 Inspection summary

An unannounced inspection took place on 31 July 2017 from 10.00 to 14.45 hours.

This inspection was underpinned by the Domiciliary Care Agencies Regulations (Northern Ireland) 2007 and the Domiciliary Care Agencies Minimum Standards, 2011.

The inspection assessed progress with areas for improvement identified during and since the last care inspection and to determine if the agency was delivering safe, effective and compassionate care and if the service was well led.

Evidence of good practice was found in relation to service quality, care records and staff training. This was supported through review of records at inspection and during feedback from service users, relatives and staff on inspection.

No areas requiring improvement were noted.

Service users relatives spoken with by the User Consultation Officer (UCO), provided positive feedback regarding the service provided by Moneydarragh Flexicare in regards to safe, effective, compassionate and well led care. Many examples of good practice were highlighted and complimented and have been detailed within the body of this report. All the staff spoken with during inspection provided positive feedback in terms of their work within the agency.

The findings of this report will provide the agency with the necessary information to assist them to fulfil their responsibilities, enhance practice and service users' experience.

4.1 Inspection outcome

	Regulations	Standards
Total number of areas for improvement	0	0

This inspection resulted in no areas for improvement being identified. Findings of the inspection were discussed with Karen Cunningham, registered person/manager, as part of the inspection process and can be found in the main body of the report.

Enforcement action did not result from the findings of this inspection.

4.2 Action/enforcement taken following the most recent care inspection dated 19 April 2016

No further actions were required to be taken following the most recent inspection on 19 April 2016.

5.0 How we inspect

Prior to the inspection a range of information relevant to the service was reviewed. This included the following records:

- Previous inspection report
- Record of notifiable events for 2016/2017
- Records of complaints notified to the agency
- All communication with the agency
- User Consultation Officer (UCO) report

Prior to the inspection the User Consultation Officer (UCO) spoke with five relatives, by telephone, on 27 July 2017 to obtain their views of the service. The service users interviewed have received assistance with the following:

- Management of medication
- Personal care
- Meals
- Sitting service

During the inspection the inspector met with six care staff to discuss their views regarding care provided by the agency, staff training and staff's general knowledge in respect of the agency. Staff feedback is contained within the body of this report.

The registered person/manager was provided with 10 questionnaires to distribute to randomly selected staff members for their completion. The inspector's questionnaires asked for staff views regarding the service, and requested their return to RQIA. It was disappointing to note that no staff questionnaires were returned to RQIA.

The following records were examined during the inspection:

- Four service user records in respect of referral, assessment, care plan and review
- Agency initial visit information regarding service user guide and agreements
- Four service user records of the agency quality monitoring contacts
- Four staff recruitment and induction records
- Agency process for verifying staff NISCC registration
- Staff training schedule and records
- Four staff quality monitoring records
- Staff meeting minutes from February and June 2017
- Complaints log and records
- Compliments log and records

- Record of incidents reportable to RQIA in 2016/2017
- Annual Quality report for 2016
- Monthly monitoring reports for April to June 2017
- The agency's Statement of Purpose
- Policies and procedures relating to: staff recruitment, supervision, induction, safeguarding, whistleblowing, recording, confidentiality, incident notification and complaints
- Record of incidents reportable to RQIA in 2016/2017

The findings of the inspection were provided to Karen Cunningham, registered person/manager at the conclusion of the inspection.

6.0 The inspection

6.1 Review of areas for improvement from the most recent inspection dated 19 April 016

The most recent inspection of the agency was an unannounced care inspection.

6.2 Review of areas for improvement from the last care inspection dated 19 April 2016

There were no areas for improvement made as a result of the last care inspection.

6.3 Inspection findings

6.4 Is care safe?

Avoiding and preventing harm to service users from the care, treatment and support that is intended to help them.

The UCO was advised by all of the relatives interviewed that there were no concerns regarding the safety of care being provided by Moneydarragh Flexicare. New carers are usually introduced to the service user by a regular member of staff; this was felt to be important both in terms of the service user's security and that the new carer had knowledge of the required care.

No issues regarding the carers' training were raised with the UCO by the relatives; examples given included catheter care, use of equipment and management of medication. All of the relatives interviewed confirmed that they could approach the carers and office staff if they had any concerns. Examples of some of the comments made by the relatives are listed below:

- "Fantastic job."
- "Consistency is great. XXX knows them all."
- "Very pleased."

A range of policies and procedures was reviewed relating to staff recruitment, induction and training. The inspector found these policies to be up to date and compliant with related regulations and standards.

Four staff files were sampled relating to care workers which verified that all the pre-employment information and documents had been obtained as required.

An induction programme had been completed with each staff member that included competency assessments and subsequent supervision records were maintained.

The inspector noted that arrangements are in place to ensure that staff are registered as appropriate with the relevant regulatory body. The inspector noted that the majority of staff are registered with The Northern Ireland Social Care Council (NISCC). Documentation in place indicated that the remaining staff have submitted their application and are awaiting their registration certificates. The registered person/ manager discussed the system introduced to identify when staff are due to renew registration. The care staff spoken with during inspection described their registration process with NISCC.

The agency's policies and procedures in relation to safeguarding adults and whistleblowing were reviewed. The 'Adult Safeguarding' policy and procedure provided information and guidance as required; and referenced the Department of Health, Social Services and Public Safety Northern Ireland (DHSSPSNI) guidance of July 2015 'Adult Safeguarding Prevention and Protection in Partnership'. The registered person/manager is named as the agency's Adult Safeguarding champion with key responsibilities detailed in their procedure in line with required guidance.

A review of safeguarding documentation confirmed that potential concerns were managed appropriately in accordance with the regional safeguarding protocols and the agency's policies and procedures.

The agency's whistleblowing policy and procedure was found to be satisfactory. The staff interviewed had a clear understanding of their role and responsibility to identify and report actual or suspected abuse, and described their role in relation to reporting poor practice.

Staff training records viewed for 2016/2017 confirmed all care workers had completed the required mandatory update training programme. Records reviewed and staff feedback indicated that staff had attended a range of training necessary to meet the needs of service users. There was evidence that staff have attended training additional to that stated in the Minimum Standards including; dementia awareness.

The agency's registered premises include a suite of offices and staff facilities which are suitable for the operation of the agency as set in the Statement of Purpose. Review of records management arrangements within the agency evidenced that appropriate storage and data protection measures were being maintained.

Areas of good practice

There were examples of good practice found throughout the inspection in relation to staff recruitment, induction and training. Adult safeguarding had been appropriately managed and ongoing review of service user's care and support was evident.

Areas for improvement

No areas for improvement were identified during the inspection.

6.5 Is care effective?

The right care, at the right time in the right place with the best outcome.

The UCO was informed by the majority of the relatives interviewed that there were no concerns regarding the carers' timekeeping. The relatives interviewed also advised that the service users had not experienced rushed care or missed calls from the agency. Service users are usually introduced to new carers by a regular carer.

No issues regarding communication between the service users, relatives and staff from Moneydarragh Flexicare were raised with the UCO. The relatives advised that home visits have taken place as well as questionnaires being sent out by the agency to obtain their views on the service.

Examples of some of the comments made by the relatives are listed below:

- "Couldn't praise them enough."
- "Peace of mind for the family."
- "Everything's grand."

Service user records viewed on the day of inspection included referral information received from the Health and Social Care (HSC) Trust. The referrals detailed the services being commissioned and relevant risk assessments. The agency care plans and risk assessments completed by staff during their initial service visits contained very detailed information and evidenced that service users' and/or relatives' views had been obtained and where possible, incorporated.

A sample of four service user files confirmed that the agency management had carried out care review meetings with service users/relatives to ensure service user needs were being met along with monthly contacts by phone or during monitoring visits. The registered person/manager confirmed that they are usually invited to contribute in writing to the trust arranged care review meetings with service users/relatives. The records evidenced that an amendment form from the trust detailing any agreed change to the original care plan had been provided.

Service user files also contained evidence of communications between the agency and trust key workers, where changing needs were identified and reassessments resulted in amended care plans.

Staff interviewed on the day of inspection confirmed that they were provided with details of the care planned for each new service user or with changes to existing service users' care plans.

The agency’s policies and procedures on ‘record keeping’ and ‘confidentiality’ were viewed and found to contain clear guidance for staff. The inspector reviewed a sample of completed daily log records returned from service users’ homes. These records confirmed an audit of recording practice had been carried out by senior staff, with no practice issues identified.

Staff members interviewed demonstrated an awareness of the importance of accurate, timely record keeping and their reporting procedure to their supervisor or manager if any changes to service users’ needs were identified.

Staff members interviewed on the day of inspection demonstrated a clear understanding of their reporting processes if running late for a service user visit or had missed a call. Staff also described the action to be taken in the event of being unable to gain access to a service user’s home.

Areas of good practice

There were examples of good practice found throughout the inspection in relation to care records, reviews, communication between service users and agency staff and other key stakeholders.

Areas for improvement

No areas for improvement were identified during the inspection.

Total number of areas for improvement	0	0

6.6 Is care compassionate?

Service users are treated with dignity and respect and should be fully involved in decisions affecting their treatment, care and support.

All of the relatives interviewed by the UCO felt that care was compassionate. The relatives advised that carers treat the service users with dignity and respect, and care has not been rushed. Views of service users and relatives have been sought through home visits and questionnaires to ensure satisfaction with the care that has been provided by Moneydarragh Flexicare. Examples of some of the comments made by the relatives are listed below:

- “XXX is one in a million.”
- “XXX loves them all.”
- “Very lucky to have them.”

The agency carries out service user quality monitoring on an ongoing basis through home visits, telephone contact and through the annual quality survey. Records reviewed during inspection support ongoing review of service users’ needs.

Quality monitoring from service user contacts alongside monthly quality reports and annual quality surveys evidenced positive feedback from service users and their family members; this was supported during the UCO discussions with service users’ families.

Observation of staff practice carried out within service users' homes on a regular basis was confirmed during inspection through records viewed in the agency office and discussions with staff. Records reviewed by the inspector highlighted no concerns regarding staff practice during spot checks/monitoring visits and this was confirmed by the registered person/manager.

Staff members spoken with during the inspection described aspects of care provision which reflected their understanding of service users' choice, dignity, and respect. Staff also demonstrated a clear understanding regarding service user confidentiality in line with the agency policy.

The agency's compliments records were viewed; these contained extremely positive feedback from service users' relatives which had been shared with staff individually and with teams. Compliments reviewed during inspection provided the following information in support of compassionate care:

- 'Thank you to all the care workers who looked after my xxx. I am very grateful for all your kind support.' (Thank you card from relative of a service user).
- 'Thank you all so much for what you've done for my xxx over the years. She always has a great word for you girls.' (Thank you card from family of a service user).
- 'I would highly recommend Moneydarragh. Staff are helpful, attentive and go out of their way to answer any queries or concerns in a speedy fashion. Families in the community speak very highly of the care and their attention to detail.' (Email from HSC trust social worker).

Areas of good practice

There were examples of good practice found throughout the inspection in relation to the provision of compassionate care and the involvement of service users. Staff discussions and compliments reviewed supported good practice in the area of compassionate care.

Areas for improvement

No areas for improvement were identified during the inspection.

6.7 Is the service well led?

Effective leadership, management and governance which creates a culture focused on the needs and experience of service users in order to deliver safe, effective and compassionate care.

All of the relatives interviewed confirmed that they are aware of whom they should contact if they have any concerns regarding the service. No complaints had been made regarding the service or concerns raised in regards to management of the agency.

The organisational and management structure of the agency are outlined in the Statement of Purpose; it details lines of accountability.

Discussion with the registered person/manager and care workers interviewed indicated they understood the organisational structure within the agency and their role and responsibilities.

The agency has a range of policies and procedures found to be in accordance with those outlined within the minimum standards; it was noted that they are retained in an electronic format and available in hard copy manuals. Staff described how they access the agency's policies and procedures. A range of the agency's policies viewed by the inspector were noted to have been reviewed and updated in line with the domiciliary care agency minimum standards.

The agency's complaints procedure viewed was found to be in line with regulations and standards. Staff members interviewed demonstrated a clear understanding of their role in relation to handling concerns or complaints in a sensitive manner.

The agency's complaints information viewed within the service user guide was found to be appropriately detailed, including the contact information of independent advocacy services.

The complaints log was viewed for the period 1 April 2016 to inspection date 31 July 2017 with two complaints recorded. The inspector reviewed these complaint records which supported appropriate management, review and resolution of each complaint. The registered person/manager confirmed that there had been no further complaints received.

Discussion with the registered person/manager and review of records evidenced that systems were in place to ensure that notifiable events were reported to RQIA and other relevant bodies appropriately. The agency has had no notifiable events that required to be reported since their last inspection.

Monthly monitoring reports were viewed for April to June 2017. These reports evidenced that the registered person had been monitoring the quality of service provided in accordance with minimum standards. Each report contained a summary of staff and service user monitoring, compliments and feedback; and evidenced how any issues arising had been managed.

The annual quality review report for 2016 viewed had been completed with a summary of feedback and an action plan. Records were available to confirm that a summary of this report had been shared with service users following their review in November 2016.

The staff interviewed indicated that they felt supported by senior staff that they described as approachable and helpful. The on-call system in operation was described as valuable to staff seeking advice but also as a support and reassurance outside office hours.

Areas of good practice

There were examples of good practice found throughout the inspection in relation to governance arrangements, management of complaints and incidents, quality improvement and maintaining good working relationships with all key stakeholders.

Areas for improvement

No areas for improvement were identified during the inspection.
