The most recent inspection of the agency was an unannounced care inspection.

6.2 Review of areas for improvement from the last care inspection dated 17 June 2016

There were no areas for improvement made as a result of the last care inspection.

6.3 Inspection findings

6.4 Is care safe?

Avoiding and preventing harm to service users from the care, treatment and support that is intended to help them.

The inspector reviewed staffing arrangements during the inspection. The agency has a recruitment policy and a mechanism in place to ensure that appropriate pre-employment checks are completed and satisfactory.

The agency has a structured induction programme lasting up to two weeks shadowing experienced staff, plus an additional five days training before the end of the six month probationary period. The agency maintains a record of the induction provided to staff, including details of the information provided during the induction period. Staff are provided with a handbook, and have access to policies, procedures and guidance which are available in the office, desktop computer and on a team tablet. The inspector spoke to three staff whose feedback supported the above information. Staff provided positive feedback to the inspector regarding how the induction prepared them for their roles and responsibilities and how they felt supported by staff, and the registered manager.

The registered manager advised the inspector that the agency uses a small pool of staff from an employment agency which is also a domiciliary care agency to meet the needs of service users.

The registered manager provided the inspector with a detailed list of the domiciliary care agency staff, their photographic evidence and evidence of their NISCC registration and the induction programme provided to them.

Staff rotas and feedback from staff and service users indicated that sufficient numbers of staff are available to meet the needs of service users at all times.

Staff comments:

- 'The rota is flexible.'
- 'There is a book to make rota requests.'
- 'We have already got our Christmas rota at this time'.

Examination of records indicated that a system to ensure that staff supervision and appraisals are planned and completed in accordance with policy has been maintained. It was noted that the agency maintains robust systems to assess the competency of staff, particularly in relation to administering medication and handling service users' finances. Staff who spoke to the inspector provided feedback that they had received supervision and appraisal in line with policy and procedure; records provided to the inspector confirmed this. A detailed matrix of completed supervision and appraisal was available in the office.

Records of training and staff feedback indicated that staff attend a range of training necessary to meet the needs of service users. There was evidence that staff have attended training additional to that stated in the Minimum Standards e.g. RESPECT, Makaton and Dysphagia training. The inspector reviewed the staff training matrix which indicated compliance with regulations and standards.

A HSC Trust professional advised the inspector that they had provided Mindfulness training to staff in the agency.

Relative's comments:

- 'We made planned and unplanned visits to Knocklayde House before xxxx took up tenancy, and we are very happy with the care here'.

The agency's provision for the welfare, care and protection of service users was examined by the inspector. The inspector viewed a policy maintained by the agency in relation to the safeguarding of adults (2016) in accordance with the regional guidance 'Adult Safeguarding Prevention and Protection in Partnership' July 2015. The inspector received feedback from the registered manager and staff, documentation reviewed indicated that safeguarding training provided by the agency includes the regional guidance. The training manager for Triangle Housing Association delivers safeguarding training and has been appointed as safeguarding champion. On the day of inspection staff were able to name the agency's safeguarding champion. A safeguarding alert flow chart was available in the agency as well as 'See Something Say Something' information.

Records reviewed by the inspector indicated that the agency had completed no safeguarding referrals since the last inspection 17 June 2016.

The inspector noted that staff were confident regarding their roles and responsibilities in relation to safeguarding issues and clear about lines of accountability. The agency maintains a system of access at all times to a registered manager or senior manager who has knowledge of the needs of service users. The registered manager provided feedback that staff are able to access advice and guidance from a manager at all times.

The inspector received feedback from staff which indicated that they were aware of their obligations in relation to raising concerns about poor practice, and they were confident of an appropriate management response.

The inspector examined the safety of the agency's arrangements to identify and manage risk to service users. Documentary evidence and discussion with the service manager indicated that referral information and risk assessments are completed by the HSC Trust. Care plans and 'Be Safe' plans reviewed by an inspector reflected risk assessments supplied by the HSC Trust.

Agency staff provided feedback which indicated that they had an understanding of the management of risk, and an ability to balance risk with the wishes and human rights of individual service users. It was noted that a restrictive practice register was in place and restrictive practice practices implemented were of the least restrictive nature considered necessary in conjunction with the HSC Trust and were reviewed regularly and evaluated.

The inspector found that care and support plans are formally reviewed by agency staff with service users on a six monthly basis or sooner if required.

On the day of the inspection the inspector reviewed reporting and management of incidents within the agency. It was noted that a number of incidents had taken place since the last inspection. The inspector examined these records and found that the agency had dealt with them in accordance with its procedure and policy.

The inspector noted that the agency had received no complaints since the last inspection.

The inspector observed evidence of staff's registration with the Northern Ireland Social Care Council (NISCC) in their personal files. The registered manager provided the inspector with documentary evidence received from the agency's human resources department verifying staffs up to date registration with the Northern Ireland Social Care Council (NISCC).

The inspector was satisfied that the agency's arrangements for obtaining all pre-employment information were satisfactory.

Of questionnaires returned by staff, three indicated they were 'satisfied' that care was safe. Of questionnaires returned by service users, four indicated a high level of satisfaction that care was safe.

Areas of good practice

There were examples of good practice found throughout the inspection in relation to staff recruitment, next of kin contact details, professional registration records for staff, training, supervision and appraisal, adult safeguarding, restrictive practice.

No areas for improvement were identified during the inspection.

	Regulations	Standards
Total number of areas for improvement	0	0

6.5 Is care effective?

The right care, at the right time in the right place with the best outcome.

The agency’s arrangements for appropriately assessing and meeting the needs of people who use the service were examined during the inspection. The full nature and range of service provision is laid out in the Statement of Purpose (2014) and Service User Guide (2015).

The inspector reviewed three service users’ care and support plans. The inspector was informed by the registered manager and staff that person centred care plans are developed with service users and/or their representatives in conjunction with relevant assessments provided by the HSC Trust multi-disciplinary team. Examination of a range of care and support plans indicated that information from HSC Trust assessments is incorporated accurately.

A detailed matrix of yearly reviews with the HSC Trust was available for the inspector to examine.

Feedback received by the inspector from staff and service users indicated that service users have a genuine influence on the content of their care plans. The inspector had an opportunity to speak to two family members who confirmed their involvement in care and support plans. Family members advised the inspector that they were invited to attend reviews but to date had not done so.

The inspector was informed that care and support plans are reviewed on a six monthly basis or sooner if required. The inspector was informed that service users are involved prior to these reviews and saw ‘Preparation for review’ forms which recorded the views of service users. The registered manager advised the inspector that monthly reviews were carried out by each key worker in conjunction with individual service users.

Service users’ comments:

- ‘I’m happy here’.

Staff comments:

- (Amongst the agency staff) ‘Team working is good’.
- ‘The staff team will provide extra support to each other when needed’.

Community key workers comments:

- (Agency) 'Respect other disciplines suggestions'
- 'Staff take a sensible approach'.
- (Agency) 'Very functional and good handle on things'.

The agency has developed and maintained a thorough quality monitoring system to oversee, audit and review the effectiveness and quality of care delivered to service users. Monthly quality monitoring is undertaken by managers who have a good working knowledge of the service.

The quality monitoring system provides a thorough standard of monitoring in accordance with RQIA guidance. Quality monitoring reports included consultation with a range of service users', staff, relatives as appropriate and HSC Trust professionals, and progress on improvement matters. The inspector noted that HSC Trust professionals provided comments regarding how well the agency team communicate regarding service users' needs.

The inspector noted feedback from a HSC Trust professional on the monthly monitoring form:

'I am satisfied with the service and provision of care and support provided by Knocklayde House, staff are attentive to service users' needs and communicating with me regarding any changes on service users' needs'.

The agency maintains communication systems to ensure that staff receive information relevant to the care and support of service users. The registered manager and staff described effective verbal and written communication systems within the staff team and with the registered manager, including the use of a diary, and daily written and verbal handovers.

Review of team meeting records indicated that team meetings took place on a regular basis; the staff who spoke to the inspector verified that staff could contribute items to the agenda for these meetings. The staff who spoke with the inspector indicated the staff team is supportive to each other and that staff communication is good.

Review of tenant meeting minutes by the inspector showed the views of service users are taken into account in planning and making decisions. The inspector noted that service users were updated on pending RQIA inspections, how to make a complaint, human rights information, and how to stay safe, suggestions in relation to social activities.

Examination of documentation and discussion with staff indicated that the agency promotes good working relationships with the HSC Trust and refers to or consults with a range of appropriate professionals when relevant.

The inspector noted and examined the following surveys carried out by Triangle Housing Association, Supporting Service Users Questionnaire 2017, Health and Well-Being survey 2017, Triangle Carer/Representative Survey results September 2017, all with very positive results. The Annual Plan 2017/2018 was available in the office.

It was evident that the agency maintains a range of methods to communicate with and record the comments of service users, including through routinely speaking with service users on a daily basis and being available for discussion. In the course of the inspection it was noted that service users freely approached staff as they wished and appeared to enjoy good relationships with staff.

On the day of the inspection the inspector spoke to a HSC Trust professional who advised that they were working closely with two members of staff to help them to use a particular piece of equipment to enhance the needs of a service user.

Advocacy services were recorded in the Statement of Purpose and on the wall of the agency office for service users to contact if necessary.

The registered manager informed the inspector that both a tablet and desktop were available for staff to use to access policies and on-line training.

The inspector noted an invitation from Triangle senior management team to all staff, inviting them to consultation meetings to discuss/obtain feedback on ‘Securing a Better Future – Our Progress in Triangle’.

On the day of the inspection the inspector spoke to two family members. The family members informed the inspector that they had written a letter to the HSC Trust and the agency commending the care and support given to their relative in Knocklayde House.

‘Sometimes, when the right people are brought together as a team, really great things can happen and I am delighted that xxxxxx has been able to reap the rewards’.

‘Thank you from the bottom of our hearts for providing xxxxxx with the chance of a fresh start and the ability to lead a more independent and fulfilling life’.

Of questionnaires returned by staff, three indicated they were ‘satisfied’ that care was effective. Of questionnaires returned by service users, four indicated a high level of satisfaction that care was effective.

Areas of good practice

There were examples of good practice found throughout the inspection in relation to care records, audits and reviews, communication between service users and agency staff and other key stakeholders.

No areas for improvement were identified during the inspection.

6.6 Is care compassionate?

Service users are treated with dignity and respect and should be fully involved in decisions affecting their treatment, care and support.

The inspection sought to assess the agency's ability to treat service users with dignity and respect, and to fully involve service users/their representatives in decisions affecting their care and support. On the day of inspection the inspector found that an ethos of dignity and respect, independence, rights, equality and diversity was reflected throughout staff attitudes and the delivery of the service.

Discussion with staff and observation of their interactions with service users during the inspection showed that they understood and respected the differing needs and wishes of service users. The inspector observed that the language and behaviour of the team leader sensitively promoted the independence and choice of service users throughout their interactions with service users.

The inspector was invited to visit service users in the communal areas of their homes. The inspector particularly noted displays of photographs which reflected service users enjoying social activities. Service users informed the inspector that their bedroom furniture and fittings were chosen by themselves.

Feedback/observation from the service users indicated that staff have developed knowledge of individual service users through careful observation and interaction over time. The inspector noted that the agency had made particular efforts to facilitate service users to achieve goals and participate in activities of their choice.

It was evident that staff, HSC Trust professionals and the agency promote the independence, equality and diversity of service users. Service users are encouraged and facilitated to participate in activities in the local and wider community, with appropriate staff support.

The inspector noted that service users' care plans were very person centred specific to the individual, with the inclusion of pictorial guides which reflected service users' wishes or needs.

The inspector noted that service users are encouraged to develop their independence inside and outside of their own homes. On the day of inspection the inspector observed service users preparing to attend a local resource centre.

Discussion with service users and observations during the day of inspection indicated that service users are fully involved in day to day decisions and routines. The inspector observed staff using language and behaving in a manner which encouraged service users to make their own choices, whilst balancing their health and wellbeing needs. It was evident to the inspector that service users had individual plans and goals, which the agency staff were enabling them to progress. The inspector found that the agency has participated in liaison with a range of professionals and agencies to enable service users to make decisions, whilst providing appropriate safeguards. It was noted that the agency has a process of supporting service users to make choices about dietary intake i.e. weekly dietary planning and they were supported with individual choice. Service users were encouraged to participate in weekly shopping routines.

During the inspection the inspector noted examples of how service user choice was being upheld by agency staff. Service users who wished to meet the inspector were provided with privacy as appropriate. The inspector noted that service users have choice regarding their daily routines and personal belongings. A service user invited the inspector to view their bedroom and the service user informed the inspector that they had picked the furniture themselves and that family members and agency staff had successfully got sky television installed in his bedroom.

The inspector noted that the agency actively promotes service user involvement across the wider agency through the Triangle Housing Association Tenants' Advisory Group. The inspector was informed by the registered manager that service users are also invited to contribute to the Triangle Housing Association Tenants' Advisory Group, and to attend the Tenants' Conference, which is service user led.

A service user described to the inspector how they had been supported by staff to celebrate their recent birthday in a local community venue.

The agency maintains a range of quality monitoring systems to evaluate the quality of services provided, including monthly quality monitoring reports which specifically ascertain and include the views of service users' and their representatives.

Relative's comments:

- 'This is xxxxxxxx home'.
- 'Staff are friendly and accommodating'.
- 'Staff are a breath of fresh air'.

Community key workers comments:

- 'Staff are approachable'.
- 'Staff are knowledgeable about service users' needs'

Of questionnaires returned by staff, three indicated they were 'satisfied' that care was compassionate. Of questionnaires returned by service users, four indicated a high level of satisfaction that care was compassionate.

Areas of good practice

There were examples of good practice found throughout the inspection in relation to the provision of compassionate care and the involvement of service users and their representatives.

No areas for improvement were identified during the inspection.

	Regulations	Standards
Total number of areas for improvement	0	0

6.7 Is the service well led?

Effective leadership, management and governance which creates a culture focused on the needs and experience of service users in order to deliver safe, effective and compassionate care.

The inspector examined management and governance systems in place to meet the needs of service users. It was noted that robust systems of established management and governance have been implemented at the agency. The day to day operation of the agency is overseen by the registered manager. The management structure of the agency is clearly defined and was understood by staff.

Staff provided positive feedback to the inspector regarding effective working relationships within the staff team and managers.

The inspector viewed evidence of a systematic approach to reviewing information with the aim of improving safety and quality of life for service users. This includes the agency's governance of risk, which comprises of appropriate policies and procedures; regular audit of adverse incidents, including safeguarding incidents and incidents notifiable to RQIA; and service improvement strategies implemented by the senior management team.

On the day of the inspection it was noted that a number of incidents had taken place since the last inspection, 17 June 2016. The inspector examined the records and found that the agency had dealt with the incidents in accordance with its procedure and policy.

The agency operates a robust training system and has an appointed safeguarding champion who is available for consultation with staff on training and safeguarding issues.

Feedback from staff indicated that they are confident that managers would listen and respond to their concerns.

The agency maintains a comprehensive range of policies and procedures which are reviewed at least every three years. Policies and procedures are maintained on both paper and electronic systems accessible to all staff.

The agency maintains and implements a policy relating to complaints and compliments; these are recorded and managed in accordance with the agency's policy and procedure. On the day of the inspection it was noted no complaints had been received since the last inspection, 17 June 2016.

There are effective systems of formal supervision and appraisal (performance review) within the agency. Staff that provided feedback to the inspector were aware of their responsibilities and understood their roles. Written and verbal guidance for staff of their daily roles and responsibilities were available.

Staff could describe how they would respond to concerns about performance of a colleague and knew how to access the whistleblowing policy.

The registered person has worked effectively with RQIA and maintained their roles and responsibilities in accordance with legislation.

On the day of inspection the RQIA certificate of registration was displayed appropriately and was reflective of the service provided.

Feedback provided to the inspector indicated that there are effective collaborative working relationships with key stakeholders and families, which are valued by staff.

The agency had completed their annual plan 2017/2018 and was available for examination by the inspector.

Relative’s comments:

- (Agency) ‘Managed so well’.

Staff comments:

- ‘Manager is supportive and accommodating’.

Areas of good practice

There were examples of good practice found throughout the inspection in relation to governance arrangements, management of complaints and incidents, quality improvement and maintaining good working relationships.

Of questionnaires returned by staff, three indicated they were ‘satisfied’ that the service was well led. Of questionnaires returned by service users, four indicated a high level of satisfaction that the service was well led.

No areas for improvement were identified during the inspection.
