4.3 Is care safe?

The agency currently provides services to 369 service users living in their own homes. A range of policies and procedures were reviewed relating to staff recruitment and induction training. The inspector found these policies to be up to date and compliant with related regulations and standards.

Three records were reviewed relating to recently appointed staff. The registered person and deputy managers verified all the pre-employment information and documents had been obtained as required and this was confirmed during review of files at inspection. An induction programme had been completed with each staff member and incorporated elements of the Northern Ireland Social Care Council (NISCC) induction standards. All staff are currently registered or registering with NISCC. One of five staff members interviewed during the inspection day had commenced employment within the previous year. This staff member described their recruitment and induction training processes in line with those found within the agency procedures and records.

The UCO was advised by all of the service users and relatives interviewed that there were no concerns regarding the safety of care being provided by Mears Care Agency. New carers had been introduced to the service user by a regular member of staff; this was felt to be important both in terms of the service user's security and that the new carer had knowledge of the required care.

No issues regarding the carers' training were raised with the UCO by the service users or relatives; examples of care given included manual handling, use of equipment and management of medication. All of the service users and relatives interviewed confirmed that they could approach the carers or office staff if they had any concerns. Examples of some of the comments made by service users or their relatives are listed below:

- "The girls are excellent."
- "Couldn't do without them."
- "It's working very well."

The agency's policies and procedures in relation to safeguarding vulnerable adults and whistleblowing were reviewed. The Safeguarding policy and procedure provided information and guidance in accordance with the required standards. The policy has recently been updated in line the Department of Health, Social Services and Public Safety Northern Ireland (DHSSPSNI) updated vulnerable adults guidance issued in July 2015 ('Adult Safeguarding Prevention and Protection in Partnership'). The agency's whistleblowing policy and procedure was found to be satisfactory.

Staff training records viewed for 2015/2016 confirmed all care staff had completed the required mandatory update training programme. The training plan for 2016 was viewed and contained each of the required mandatory training subject areas along with other training relevant to service users care and support needs including dementia and resuscitation training (CPR) training. Training is facilitated mainly within the agency by a full time trainer with additional training sourced externally as required. Discussion during inspection with care staff confirmed satisfaction with the quality of training offered with staff commenting positively on the trainer.

Records reviewed for three long term staff members evidenced mandatory training, quality monitoring, supervision and appraisal as compliant with agency policy timeframes. Staff spoken with during the inspection confirmed the availability of continuous ongoing update training.

Staff questionnaires received confirmed that update training, supervision and appraisal had been provided. Staff feedback supported service users being safe and protected from harm with care plans and risk assessments in place which support safe care.

Safeguarding was discussed during inspection; the registered person and deputy managers confirmed one matter had arisen since the previous inspection. Review of the agency’s safeguarding referral information and associated documentation confirmed compliance with safeguarding protocols. The registered person, deputy managers and care staff spoken with at inspection presented appropriate knowledge in reporting and managing matters when they arise.

Each of the five staff interviewed had a clear understanding of their roles and responsibility to identify and report actual or suspected abuse. They also described their role in relation to reporting poor practice and their understanding of the agency’s policy and procedure on whistleblowing.

A sample of three service user files confirmed that the agency management had carried out ongoing review of services with service users/representatives. The registered person and deputy managers confirmed that the agency implements an ongoing quality monitoring process and this was evident during review of three service users’ records. The service user guide issued to service users at commencement of the care package includes details regarding advocacy services should service users require support in reviewing their care package or making a complaint. The agency have not been requested to provide the guide in an alternative format but confirmed they would accommodate this should the need arise to ensure appropriate communication and equality to all service users.
