2.0 Inspection summary

An unannounced inspection took place on 18 June 2026, between 10.00 am to 5.00 pm by a care inspector.

The inspection was undertaken to evidence how the home is performing in relation to the regulations and standards and to determine if the home is delivering safe, effective and compassionate care and if the service is well led.

The inspection established that safe, effective and compassionate care was delivered to patients and that the home was well led. Details and examples of the inspection findings can be found in the main body of the report.

Patients said that living in the home was a good experience. Patients unable to voice their opinions were observed to be relaxed and comfortable in their surroundings and in their interactions with staff.

This inspection resulted in no areas for improvement being identified.

3.0 The inspection

3.1 How we Inspect

RQIA's inspections form part of our ongoing assessment of the quality of services. Our reports reflect how the home was performing against the regulations and standards, at the time of our inspection, highlighting both good practice and any areas for improvement. It is the responsibility of the provider to ensure compliance with legislation, standards and best practice, and to address any deficits identified during our inspections.

To prepare for this inspection we reviewed information held by RQIA about this home. This included the previous areas for improvement issued, registration information, and any other written or verbal information received from patients, relatives, staff or the commissioning Trust.

Throughout the inspection process inspectors seek the views of those living, working and visiting the home; and review/examine a sample of records to evidence how the home is performing in relation to the regulations and standards. Inspectors will also observe care delivery and may conduct a formal structured observation during the inspection.

Through actively listening to a broad range of service users, RQIA aims to ensure that the lived experience is reflected in our inspection reports and quality improvement plans.

3.2 What people told us about the service

Patients who were able to share their opinions on life in the home said or indicated that they were well looked after. Patients who were less able to share their views were observed to be at ease in the company of staff and to be content in their surroundings.

Staff told us that they were happy working in the home and enjoyed engaging with the patients. They felt that they worked well together and were supported by management to do so.

Following the inspection, we received four completed staff questionnaires indicating they were very satisfied that the care provided was safe, effective, compassionate and well led. Comments included "Very good place to work". There were no patient/relative questionnaires received within the timescale specified.

3.3 Inspection findings

3.3.1 Staffing Arrangements

Safe staffing begins at the point of recruitment and continues through to staff induction, regular staff training and ensuring that the number and skill of staff on duty each day meets the needs of patients. There was evidence of robust systems in place to manage staffing.

Checks were made to ensure nurses maintained their registrations with the Nursing and Midwifery Council and care staff with the Northern Ireland Social Care Council.

Observation of the delivery of care evidenced that patients' needs were met by the number and skills of the staff on duty and that staff responded to requests for assistance promptly in a caring and compassionate manner.

3.3.2 Quality of Life and Care Delivery

Staff met at the beginning of each shift to discuss any changes in the needs of the patients. Staff were observed to be prompt in recognising patients' needs and any early signs of distress or illness, including those patients who had difficulty in making their wishes or feelings known.

Staff were skilled in communicating with patients; they were respectful, understanding and sensitive to patients' needs. Staff were also observed offering patient choice in how and where they spent their day or how they wanted to engage socially with others.

At times some patients may require the use of equipment that could be considered restrictive or they may live in a unit that is secure to keep them safe. It was established that safe systems were in place to safeguard patients and to manage this aspect of care.

Patients may require special attention to their skin care. These patients were assisted by staff to change their position regularly and care records accurately reflected the patients' assessed needs.

The risk of falling and falls were well managed and referrals were made to other healthcare professionals as needed.

Good nutrition and a positive dining experience are important to the health and social wellbeing of patients. Patients may need a range of support with meals; this may include simple encouragement through to full assistance from staff and their diet modified.

Observation of the lunchtime meal served in the main dining room confirmed that enough staff were present to support patients with their meal and that the food served appeared appetising and nutritious. An effective system was in place to identify which meal was for each individual patient, to ensure patients were served the right consistency of food and their preferred menu choice. It was clear that staff had made an effort to ensure patients were comfortable, had a pleasant experience and had a meal that they enjoyed.

The importance of engaging with patients was well understood by the manager and staff. Staff understood that meaningful activity was not isolated to the planned social events or games. The activity schedule was on display, and it was positive to see that the activities provided were varied, interesting and suited to both groups of patients and individuals.

Arrangements were in place to meet the patients' social, religious and spiritual needs within the home.

3.3.3 Management of Care Records

Patients' needs were assessed by a suitably qualified member of staff at the time of their admission to the home.

Following this initial assessment care plans were developed to direct staff on how to meet patients' needs and included any advice or recommendations made by other healthcare professionals.

A small number of patients had bespoke care arrangements in place, staff were observed supporting patients with their assessed care needs. A discussion took place with the manager to further develop the individualised bespoke care plan; this will be reviewed at a future inspection.

Care records were person centred and regularly reviewed to ensure they continued to meet the patients' needs.

Patients care records were held confidentially.

3.3.4 Quality and Management of Patients' Environment

The home was clean, tidy and well maintained. For example, patients' bedrooms were personalised with items important to the patient. Bedrooms and communal areas were well decorated, suitably furnished, warm and comfortable. There was evidence of ongoing refurbishment to include enhancing showering facilities for patients; progress will be reviewed at a future inspection.

Fire safety measures were in place and well managed to ensure patients, staff and visitors to the home were safe. Corridors were clear of clutter and obstruction and fire exits were also maintained clear.

Staff were observed to carry out hand hygiene at appropriate times and to use PPE in accordance with the regional guidance. Staff use of PPE and hand hygiene was regularly monitored by the manager and records kept.

3.3.4 Quality of Management Systems

There has been no change in the management of the home since the last inspection. Mrs Martha O' Kane has been the manager in this home since 10 June 2021.

Staff commented positively about the management team and described them as supportive, approachable and able to provide guidance.

Review of a sample of records evidenced that a robust system for reviewing the quality of care, other services and staff practices was in place. There was evidence that the manager responded to any concerns, raised with them or by their processes, and took measures to improve practice, the environment and the quality of services provided by the home.

4.0 Quality Improvement Plan/Areas for Improvement

This inspection resulted in no areas for improvement being identified. Findings of the inspection were discussed with Martha O’Kane, Registered Manager as part of the inspection process and can be found in the main body of the report.
